

War Criminals
Of Reich Turn
Backs On Film
Of Camp Crimes

By WES GALLAGHER
Nuernberg, Nov. 29 (AP)—Ghastly scenes of Nazi concentration camps were shown in motion pictures today to the International Military Tribunal but some of the Hitlerite leaders on trial sat with averted eyes during the showing of the grim film record of German cruelty.

The grisly pictures of mass murder sobered Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering and others of the score of defendants who had grinned and laughed earlier as an American prosecutor disclosed the threats, bluffs and deceit with which Hitler softened up Austria for an unopposed invasion.

Hjalmar Schacht, Hitler's "financial wizard," sat with his back to the screen, refusing to look at the official U. S. Army film. Franz Von Papen, once Germany's wildest diplomat, refused to glance at the screen but could not shut out the sound of the narrator's voice describing the deaths of thousands of Nazi victims.

Hess Follows Film
Rudolf Hess, on the other hand, showed an interest in the trial for the first time. Hitler's one-time deputy, who is trying to escape from the trial on a plea of lost memory, followed the uncensored film closely.

The court adjourned for the day at 4:45 p. m. (10:45 a. m., EST) after the motion picture was entered as evidence.

Fat and not-too-happy Hermann Goering was described as the man who directed by telephone the blitz invasion of Austria after Austrian Nazis paved the way by deposing Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg.

Goering became serious as Assistant U. S. Prosecutor Sidney S. Alderman read in detail transcripts of telephone conversations between Goering and Austrian Nazis on the days before and on the days of the unopposed invasion.

Scribe Finds Records
The records were found in the ruins of the Berlin Air Ministry building by Associated Press Correspondent Dan De Luca and given to the prosecution for evidence.

"This highly interesting document allows us to live again in those grim days of Anschluss," Alderman declared.

Many of the telephone conversations were with Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Austrian Nazi leader and one of Goering's fellow defendants. The prosecution said the records clearly disclosed Nazi plotting to absorb Austria into the Reich.

The prosecutor pointed out to the court the cynical discrepancies and "international double talk" between Goering's open threats to the Austrian government and his telephoned statement the day after the Anschluss to Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, who at the time was in London, that "this story we had given an ultimatum is just foolish gossip."

The last statement was for the benefit of English agents tapping the telephone wire, Alderman said.

Von Papen Grins
Franz von Papen, who paved the way for the anchluss as minister to Austria, grinned when Goering's talk with Ribbentrop was read.

Goering himself almost doubled up with laughter when Alderman quoted him as telling Ribbentrop how he was sitting on his Berlin balcony drinking his coffee while "the birds are twittering."

For the second straight day, American prosecutors continued to unfold the tale of Nazi intrigue, deceit and fifth column activity that resulted in the blitz anchluss of Austria in 1938.

The Austrian war plan, identified by the code name "Otto," was taken from files of the German high command, Assistant U. S. Prosecutor Sidney S. Alderman said. He then produced a directive from Marshal Werner von Blomberg in which he quoted the former secretary of war as saying "there might be special preparations for war against Austria."

"War With Spain"

The war plan was introduced over the objection of counsel for Col. Gen. Alfred Jodi, German army chief of staff, who said that the document showed only that the Wehrmacht was preparing "for all eventualities" including "war against Spain."

Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering grinned at evidence of another bit of Hitlerite fakery used to intimidate small European nations—an order from Field Marshal Keitel directing "spreading of false but quite creditable news" of Nazi military intentions toward Austria.

The court recessed at 12:30 p. m. (6:30 a. m. EST) for lunch.

Goering's court acting reached a new high when he shook his head and ponderously rocked from side to side in negation of the prosecutor's statement that the Nazis feared the result of a plebiscite called by Austrian Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg to determine Austria's stand on independence. Alderman maintained that Hitler forced Schuschnigg's resignation and then marched in to Austria to prevent the plebiscite.

COUNTY MAN'S NECK BROKEN AS
CAR HITS STUMP

His neck broken when the automobile in which he was riding ran off the highway and struck a stump two miles from Hanover, on the Hanover-New Oxford road near Bittinger, at 5:15 p. m. Wednesday, Charles G. Miller, 66, of Pleasant street, New Oxford, was pronounced dead upon arrival in an ambulance at the Hanover hospital at 6 p. m.

Another passenger in the car, Mrs. David Weikert, Lincoln Way west, New Oxford, suffered a contusion on her forehead. The driver, E. A. Storm, 50, New Oxford, and two other passengers, Mrs. Woodrow Martz, Lincoln Way east, and Paul Kuhn, New Oxford, escaped injury. All were employed in shoe factories in Hanover, and were on their way home from work.

State police who investigated the accident said Mr. Storm pulled around to pass another automobile which had stopped to discharge a passenger. Approximately two inches of water on the highway and the soft edge pulled his car to the left and onto the grass. The left front wheel of the car struck a stump 10 inches in diameter protruding five inches above the ground and the impact snapped Mr. Miller's neck. His cap was knocked off, but his glasses remained in place. A small contusion on his forehead indicated that his head had struck the instrument board.

No Inquest
Mr. Miller was taken in another automobile to the home of Dr. W. H. Miller, New Oxford. Doctor Miller was not at home and the Hanover ambulance was called. The injured man was dead upon arrival at the hospital. Dr. E. S. Stambaugh, York county coroner, issued a certificate of accidental death. No inquest will be held, he said.

Mr. Storm told state police he was driving between 20 and 25 miles per hour at the time of the accident. Mr. Miller was riding in the front seat with him. Mrs. Weikert, Mrs. Martz and Mr. Kuhn were in the back seat.

Services On Saturday
Miller was a member of Hebron lodge, No. 465, Masons, New Oxford. He was the son of Anna Wiest Miller and the late George P. Miller.

He is survived by his wife, the former Bertha Wolf, a daughter, Dorothy, at home; his mother, who is living in Texas; brothers and sisters, Frank Miller, Hanover; William Hafer Miller, New Oxford; Mrs. Nina Faulkner, Philadelphia; West Miller, Marietta; Mrs. Waner E. Vans-Londe, Kansas; Cloyd Miller, Bonneville; James Miller, Atlantic City; Guy Miller, State College; Mrs. Earl Godner, Texas; and Joseph Miller, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Funeral services at 10 a. m., Saturday from the Reformed church, New Oxford, the Rev. Dobbs Ehlman officiating. Interment in the New Oxford cemetery.

FRANK STONER
DIES SUDDENLY

Frank Albert Stoner, 74, died at his home in Emmitsburg at 3 a. m. today of complications. He was taken suddenly ill at 2 o'clock. Mr. Stoner had been employed as a carpenter at St. Joseph's college for the past 44 years. He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg; the Holy Name society and the Emerald Society of Emmitsburg.

Mr. Stoner was a son of the late Peter and Harriet (McClaff) Stoner. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary Alice (Bowling) Stoner, three sons, Lewis and Donald Stoner, Emmitsburg; S. L. Austin Stoner, serving in the Pacific with the navy, and six grandchildren. A requiem mass will be held at St. Joseph's church at 9 a. m. Monday, with the Rev. Father Stauble officiating. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. The body may be viewed at Mr. Stoner's home Sunday evening between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Judge To Aid With Penal Code Study

Judge W. C. Sheely has been named to serve as a member of an advisory committee to work with the Joint State Government (Research) Commission's committee on revision of the penal code, the Associated Press reports.

The advisory committee is headed by Dean W. H. Hitchler, of Dickinson Law school, Carlisle, as chairman. The Legislature's committee, of which State Senator Paul M. Crider, Republican, of the Franklin-Adams county district, is chairman, also includes Rep. Francis Worley, Adams county, who is vice chairman.

Woman's League
Meets Tuesday

The Woman's League of Gettysburg college will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Christ Lutheran church. Features of the program will be a talk on Christmas by Dr. Ralph R. Gresh and vocal solos by Mrs. Robert C. Derck.

The hostess committee for the meeting includes: Mrs. Marie Ziegler, Mrs. Clyde B. Stover, Mrs. A. Z. Rodgers, Mrs. Luther T. Sachs, Mrs. Robert F. Saylor, Mrs. Milton R. Tipton, Mrs. George Zerling, Mrs. Paul Thomas and Mrs. Paul A. Kinsey.

A food sale and bazaar will be held prior to the meeting, arrangements for which are in charge of Mrs. Elmer Warren, Mrs. Raymond F. Sheely, Mrs. Carl E. Oyler, Mrs. J. C. Donley, Mrs. C. H. Hett and Mrs. Robert Portenbaugh.

COUNTY NEARS
BOND QUOTA;
NEED $154,100

A tremendous spurt in bond buying by Adams countians during the past 24 hours shoved the total sales to within striking distance of the county quota and War Finance Committee members are hopeful of going "over the top" before the close of the drive December 9.

Total sales, reported today as of November 27, are $735,900, an increase of almost $100,000 over Wednesday's report.

Only $154,100 worth of bonds need to be sold between now and December 9 to reach the county quota of $890,000. This means an average of approximately $17,000 per day for each of the remaining nine days on which bonds may be purchased. The nine days exclude Sundays when all issuing agencies are closed.

"If the county responds to our appeals for bond purchases during the remaining nine days, as I feel confident it will, we hope to go over the top before December 9," Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the county committee, said today.

E Bonds Lag
E bond sales now total $154,068.75. This is far short of the quota for this type of bond, which is $350,000. The unsold portion of the E bond quota is $195,931.25. In order to attain this quota Adams countians will have to purchase E bonds at the rate of more than $20,000 per day for the remainder of the drive.

With the distribution of the thousands of dollars in Christmas Fund checks on December 1, some observers believe that there will be another spurt in E bond buying. This type of bond, it was said by one observer, is being planned for Christmas gifts.

"A United States bond makes an excellent Christmas gift," the observer said, "and I really believe that many Christmas Club members will use at least a part of their fund for this purpose this year."

School children, too, are increasing their tempo in bond sales and according to reports from many school teachers, the pupils hope to have another "splendid report" before the close of the drive.

Four Countians
Are Discharged

Among the Adams countians discharged from the service at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation Separation center Wednesday were:

Cpl. John D. Ridinger, 220 East Middle street.

Sgt. Harvey R. Fleming, Gettysburg R. 4.

Pfc. Quay J. Cullison, 227 South Washington street.

S/Sgt. John G. Brehm, Chambersburg street.

DISCUSS SOIL CONSERVATION

The Production and Marketing Administration (PMA) plans for soil conservation in seven Pennsylvania counties were discussed at a meeting of the county committeemen from those counties Wednesday at the York YMCA.

In all, 30 representatives were present from York, Lancaster, Adams, Franklin, Dauphin, Cumberland and Perry counties.

The PMA plan was discussed by W. J. Poorbaugh, farmer field agent for the seven counties, and Clayton Jester, of the Harrisburg PMA office.

It was announced that the program which was used during the current year has been elaborated upon for 1946. This plan will be taken directly to the farmers after PMA meetings in each of the counties.

Agents of the boards soon will launch a program of checking up on soil conservation work done on the farms during 1945, it was stated.

ARMY REPORTS
PROMPT PROBES
BY POLICE HERE

Reports from army camps indicative of the existence of disease in Gettysburg women who have consorted with soldiers on furlough have led to the commitment of one Gettysburg woman to a Lancaster institution for treatment and investigation of other possible cases by borough police, Chief Robert C. Harpster said today.

Chief Harpster said he has received six reports emanating from camps where medical examinations have shown disease among soldiers attributed to origin in Gettysburg. Soldiers, when questioned, have reported places and dates, Chief Harpster said, but the information received by him does not include names of either men or women, making the investigation difficult.

According to the chief, the law provides that investigations should be made by the health officer and nurse, and reports made to the state health department, Harrisburg. Commitments for treatment can only be made, he added, on authorization of the state authorities.

Weekly clinics are held at the Warner hospital, Chief Harpster said. In some instances, persons discontinue treatments before cures are effected, he added. He said that he would continue his investigation of army reports.

Kenneth Sites
Kills Bobcat;
Hit Five Times

Kenneth Sites, of Fairfield, and three other hunters went into Clinton county to hunt bear this week. They didn't get a bear but Sites bagged a large bobcat "in the hardest hunting I ever experienced," according to Sites.

The Fairfield hunter said that he shot the bobcat five times before downing it. After he struck the cat the first time, the animal fled over a mountain for more than a mile, with Sites in pursuit. As Sites approached a large tree stump the bobcat leaped out of the stump over Sites' head and fled again. Two more shots were poured into it but the animal kept on going. A fourth shot badly crippled the animal and Sites finished it with a revolver shot in the head.

Sites used an 8 MM German rifle the first four shots. He said he will have the cat mounted. It measures 50 inches long and approximately 16 inches high.

Others in the hunting party were: Sgt. Henry Pecher, recently returned from a Japanese prison camp, Paul Kobil and Donald Smith.

Rain Changes To Snow; To Be Colder

Chill west winds turned rain to snow here early this afternoon and the first big flakes of the season were seen here. The snow melted as rapidly as it fell but the weatherman predicts colder weather is ahead this week-end.

Wednesday's steady downpour sent streams over their banks in this county as in other sections of eastern Pennsylvania while the western and northern sections of the state reported snow.

Philadelphia, Nov. 29 (AP)—A record November rainstorm blew itself out here today after flooding highways and cellars, knocking down power lines and trees and causing numerous traffic accidents. During the past 24 hours 3.33 inches of rain fell in Philadelphia, exceeding by .74 of an inch the previous mark set in 1876.

Society Plans
Ladies' Night

The November meeting of the Gettysburg Photographic society was held Wednesday evening at the home of Joseph Kendeheart, West Middle street. Plans were made for a Ladies' Night dinner meeting to be held December 27 at a place not yet selected. Arrangements are in the hands of President Paul A. Kinsey.

Fifteen prints made by members were displayed at the meeting and by vote of the members those of Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen and Paul G. Pensinger tied for first place. Second place went to Maurice Stoops; third to Paul Kinsey; fourth to Edward Stine and Mr. Stoops, who tied, and fifth place to another print by Doctor Rasmussen.

Two County Vets
On "Magic Carpet"

SC 2/C Hugh P. Keckler, husband of Mrs. Pearl Keckler, Gettysburg, and S 1/C Russell N. Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Sanders, Iron Springs, are two of the more than 4,200 high-point navy veterans whom the "Magic Carpet" is bringing back to the United States aboard the USS Yorktown.

The Yorktown, one of more than 250 carriers, battleships, cruisers and attack transports in the navy's famed "Magic Carpet" fleet, left Guam November 17, and is scheduled to arrive in San Francisco aboard December 1.

Keckler and Sanders will go directly to separation centers nearest their homes to complete the formalities of obtaining their discharges before returning to civilian life.

ACUTE HOUSING
SHORTAGE HERE IS CONTINUING

The housing shortage in Gettysburg is just as acute now as it was during the war years, and indications point to a more serious condition in the months to come. There is a definite scarcity of apartments and unless some new construction gets under way soon Gettysburg will lose some prospective new citizens.

A number of new homes are expected to be built here as soon as construction materials are made available and men can be secured to do the work. However, this may not relieve the housing shortage to the extent that it is needed.

Currently a number of soldiers are returning to Gettysburg college, many taking advantage of the GI Bill of Rights which provides financial assistance to veterans who wish to pursue their higher education. Many of these veterans, and more are scheduled to come here at regular intervals, are married and wish to bring their wives with them. They seek furnished or unfurnished apartments, but apparently none are available.

Expansion Ahead
Some veterans are now living in tourist cabins while attending school and others have managed to locate single rooms in the town. They are anxious to establish residence here while in college. There are no facilities at the college to care for families or couples.

Then, too, with the construction of the Inductive Equipment corporation factory and the opening of that new business several new families will be brought here immediately. More will follow later as the business expands and the plant gets into full operation. Homes will be needed for these new families.

The outlook appears bright for an expanded Gettysburg, an increase in population, but the housing shortage is a definite problem and will continue to be such until new construction gets under way.

Couple Observes
40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Reuning, West High street, today observed their 40th wedding anniversary. They were married in Olean, N. Y., and later moved to Coudersport, Pa. Sixteen years ago they moved to Gettysburg.

The couple has two children, Harold Reuning, who is proprietor of The Shoe Box, Chambersburg street, and Miss Ruth Reuning, dietitian at Shadyside hospital, Pittsburgh, who came here today for her parents' anniversary.

Eisenhower Criticizes French
For Hampering Allied Efforts

By JAMES F. KING
Frankfurt, Germany, Nov. 29 (AP)—General Eisenhower in a report released here today, criticized the French government for hampering the Allied Control council and urged early establishment of central German administrative machinery.

Summarizing the situation in Germany in October, before he left to become chief of staff of the U. S. Army, Eisenhower cited the potential dangers of unrest and disease this winter.

He declared, however, there was "no immediate emergency in the American and British zones as long as current rations can be maintained."

The release followed by a day the White House disclosure of a report to President Truman by Byron Price, former censorship director, blaming France for most of the

HARVARD STUDY
REVIEWED FOR SCHOOL GROUP

The Adams County Schoolmen's association, at a meeting Wednesday evening in the Student Christian association building on the college campus, heard a general survey presented by Dr. Thomas L. Cline, college professor of English, on the Harvard report on education, and the presentation of guiding principles for the use of released school time for week-day religious instruction submitted by the executive committee of the school association.

The following committee of schoolmen, laymen and the Adams County Ministerium was appointed to study the report and proposals: the Rev. George S. Stoneback, Fairfield; the Rev. Floyd Carroll, Gettysburg; the Rev. Dobbs F. Ehlman, New Oxford; Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, Dr. Ralph D. Heim and Dr. W. C. Waltemyer, all of Gettysburg; the Rev. Nevin Frantz, Arendtsville; Arthur Roth, Orrianna; Charles L. Gentzler, East Berlin; Roy Starner, Benderville; Hush C. McIlhenny, Gettysburg; Dr. Robert A. Bream, Gettysburg; Dale Roth, York Springs; Paul E. King, Littlestown, and L. V. Stock, Biglerville.

Report Discussed
Mr. Stock, principal of the Biglerville school, presided. Guile W. Lefever, principal of Gettysburg high school, discussed phases of the Harvard report and offered recommendations following Dr. Cline's presentation.

The aim of the Harvard report, Dr. Cline said, was to cultivate an appreciation in the masses of the heritage of America and freedom. The report cited the rapid growth of schools between 1870 and 1940 and the huge problem of physical and ethical development.

Higher pay and greater dedication; freedom from political control; and variety in the school program were listed as conditions of good teaching. The report discussed the training of leaders and the raising of the educational standards of the masses.

"The fruit of education is intelligence in action," Dr. Cline said.

In the discussion by Mr. Lefever, English and closely related social studies were recommended to develop thinking and good citizenship. Foreign languages were recommended only for those who wish to specialize.

Guiding Principles
The guiding principles submitted by the executive committee included:

Students need to know facts of religion and they should know how to apply these facts to their lives; a well-planned program of religious instruction should have the cooperation of school people; a progressive curriculum in religious instruction should be developed; religious instruction should represent a substantial proportion of the public school community in order to justify its use of school time; religious leaders need to agree upon the fundamentals of the program; a program of religious instruction must lend itself to practical administration, including such items as staff, program and finance; a central committee can assist communities in developing their programs and methods of procedure.

The latter finding was followed in the appointment of the committee. The observations grew out of the October meeting, and were formulated by the committee composed of L. V. Stock, C. R. Wolfe, N. R. Frantz, C. E. Bilheimer, W. C. Waltemyer and R. A. Bream.

Ivan Mechtly, principal of the New Oxford school will speak on "The Science of Mathematics" at the next meeting January 23 at which time recommendations will be made for the application of the Harvard report to Adams county schools.

occupation difficulties. Praising the British delegation for going along in council matters for the sake of unanimity, Eisenhower asserted:

"On a number of important matters, moreover, little progress was made during the month. A proposed law to authorize and encourage a federation of German trade unions on a national basis could not be adopted on account of French opposition."

Stating the United States had no intention of "taking any active steps to raise Germany above the economic level required by humanitarianism," Eisenhower declared that German industry must be raised above the five to seven per cent of capacity at which it is now operating, and that food must be imported without thought of payment.

Xmas Lights Go
On At 7:30 P. M.
Saturday

Ralph Z. Oyler, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee for Christmas street lights and decorations, announced today that the Xmas lights will be turned on at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night.

Only a few more strands of lights and laurel remain to be strung across the streets to complete the work. The heavy rains of the past several days have delayed this work but Edward Settle, in charge of placing the decorations, hopes to have these strands placed before Saturday night, weather permitting.

Thus, after an absence of three years, Gettysburg's main streets will be gayly lighted for the Yule season. No Xmas street lights and decorations were placed during the war.

WIDE VARIETY OF MUSIC ON BAND PROGRAM

The Combat Infantry band, which will be presented at Adams county's Victory Loan bond premiere at the Majestic theater Thursday, December 6, by the county War Finance Committee, will present a two-hour program of martial, popular and classical airs, interspersed with singing, solo numbers and novelty acts.

Cpl. Monk Kaufman, the "Harry James" of the band, will give several trumpet solos in addition to his own "hot" version of popular songs. Sgt. George Crowder, the crooner of the organization, will turn out the vocals of today's song hits.

Cpl. Gordon Myers and the 24-man choral group have a number of interesting vocal arrangements to present under the guidance of Pfc. Fritz Kurzweil, formerly musical director of the Chicago Opera and the Philadelphia Choral society.

Doughboy Rhapsody

T/4 Stanley Weiner, formerly violinist with the National Symphony, will give two violin solos, "Caprice Viennois," by Kreisler, and his own arrangement of Serbian folk songs, "Serbia," both specially prepared for the difficult combination of band and accompanying violin.

The band will play "The Doughboy Rhapsody," a novel arrangement of songs of this and the last war, and its share of popular show music from some of Broadway's biggest hits. Two or three marches, played in the peppy Infantry Band way, will be presented for the lovers of this type of music.

Sale Starts Friday

The band is composed of 65 veterans from the fighting fronts, and is on a war bond tour of Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New York and New Jersey.

Adams county bond buyers may obtain reserved seat tickets for the band show by presenting their certification forms issued by county issuing agents with the purchase of bonds, at the special box office at the Majestic theater, beginning Friday morning, November 30, at 10:30 o'clock.

MISS BREAM DIES
AT BIRTHPLACE

Miss Mary Caroline Bream, 84, died Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the Huntington township dwelling in which she was born and lived all her life. She resided with her nephew, Luther Bream. Complications caused death after an illness of nearly a week.

Miss Bream was a member of the Ground Oak Lutheran church and the Ladies' Aid society of the church. She was a daughter of the late Jeremiah and Elizabeth (Meals) Bream.

Surviving are a brother, Edwin Bream, Carlisle, and a sister, Laura Miller, Hanover.

Funeral services from the Pittenturf funeral home in York Springs Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock with further services in Ground Oak church, the Rev. Paul J. Horick, pastor, officiating. Friends may call Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the funeral home.

U.S. Attaches
Ruined Codes
3 Days Before
Pearl Harbor

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Congressional investigators learned today that American naval attaches in Japan and some districts of China were notified December 4, 1941—three days before the Pearl Harbor attack—to destroy their codes.

Gerhard Gessell, committee counsel, put into the records of the Senate-House committee investigating the attack a dispatch sent to the attaches December 4 by Admiral Harold R. Stark, then chief of naval operations. Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet at the time was marked up for a copy.

The message instructed the attaches to "destroy this system" at their discretion and to report on their actions by replying with the words "jabberwock" and "boomerang."

This development in the inquiry came after Chairman Barkley announced that Gen. George C. Marshall, former army chief of staff, will be called as a witness before he leaves for China as President Truman's special envoy. Marshall is expected to depart in three or four days.

All Destroyed

Gessell read the Stark message, copies of which he said arrived while the hearing was in progress, as Republican members pressed Joseph C. Grew, former ambassador to Japan, about the destruction of American code books and secret files in Tokyo.

Rep. Gearhart, (R-Calif.), asked if Grew was sure no American codes or other information were found by the Japanese after they took over the embassy following the Pearl Harbor attack.

"None whatsoever," the witness replied firmly.

In announcing Gen. Marshall's forthcoming appearance before the committee, Barkley said in a statement:

Yesterday, however, counsel for the Senate-House committee announced that after brief testimony today by former Secretary of State Cordell Hull and a wind-up appearance of former Ambassador Joseph C. Grew the witnesses would be Major Gen. Sherman Miles and Vice Adm. Theodore S. Wilkinson. They were chiefs of army and navy intelligence at the time of Pearl Harbor.

Asked what he planned to ask the military men, Ferguson—who has been the committee's most persistent questioner—replied:

"I don't know. I'm not ready. Counsel didn't inform us of the change. You reporters knew of it, but we didn't."

May Testify Today

The Michigan senator agreed with other committee members, however, that Gen. George C. Marshall, wartime army chief of staff, ought to be heard before he leaves for his new post as special envoy to China.

Chairman Barkley (D-Ky.) said the committee is in touch with Marshall and told reporters "in case he's just on the verge of leaving, we would call him right away." An appearance today thus became possible.

The State department phase, despite long testimony by Hull, former Undersecretary Sumner Welles and Grew, still is far from over.

Grew, who has appeared daily since Monday, came back to finish his testimony, which enlarged yesterday on previous testimony concerning futile efforts by Premier Prince Konoye in September, 1941, to arrange a meeting with the late President Roosevelt.

"We in Tokyo felt," the former ambassador said, "that if Prime Minister Konoye and President Roosevelt could meet face to face" something might be worked out to avert a clash.

Grew added, however, that no one could say for certain whether Japanese militarists would have permitted Konoye to carry out any commitments he might have made. Konoye's cabinet fell in October, 1941, and the militarists took over.

UNO ACTION IS NECESSARY FOR WORLD SECURITY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP) World Traveler

London, Nov. 29.—This column ventured the prediction weeks ago that the coming year would largely determine whether we are to have a real peace or whether mankind is going to commit atomic hara-kiri.

The signs have seemed to me to indicate that in this general period (for I'm not trying to pin the thing down to an exact length of time) we shall encounter the paramount international problem upon which peace hinges. Among these, of course, are the sharp and dangerous differences which have arisen among the Big Three, whose solidarity is synonymous with peace and security.

Need UNO Action

Now the corollary to this is that the quicker the new United Nations peace organization gets into action to help settle the difficulties, the better will be our chances of avoiding further conflict.

It is good to be able to report that there is a sense of urgency to get the organization going. Present plans anticipate the meeting of the general assembly the first week in January, and with this as an objective the preparatory commission has set out to finish its work by Christmas.

This means that our whole new peace organization will be functioning in a little more than a month if things move as well as expected. Then the world's major problems, both political and economic, can come before the United Nations. Indeed, I heard it suggested yesterday that there might be an international trade conference by June.

Threatening Issues

There is a wide range of problems which can come before the assembly, for any issue which threatens international tranquility is grist for the peace mill.

If this idea is pursued to its logical conclusion we may see the United Nations organization dealing with some issues which heretofore would have been regarded as not international in character but as purely the business of the nation immediately concerned. Thus a civil war such as now exists in China might become the concern of the world at large since it certainly threatens the peace of more than China.

JAP GENERAL ENDS DIRECT TESTIMONY

Manila, P. I., Nov. 29 (AP)—Direct examination of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, testifying in his own defense on war crimes charges, concluded today with the former Philippines commander steadfastly denying any knowledge of atrocities committed by his Japanese army subordinates.

In response to questions by his defense attorneys, Yamashita admitted close liaison with his various chiefs of staff but snapped an emphatic "no" to a question whether he ever issued any orders for killings or brutal treatment of civilians.

In fact, he testified, he had instructed his subordinates to cooperate with the Filipinos as much as possible.

Wasn't Aware

In conclusion, the Japanese general gripped the arms of his chair and declared earnestly:

"The matters referred to in charges here I have known for the first time from witnesses before this court. When and if such acts were committed by my subordinates it is in complete disagreement with my own ideas.

"I never ordered such actions, never condoned such actions, nor have I ever recognized such actions at all."

Furthermore, he said, had he been aware of them he would have ordered them discontinued.

INSPECTION OF CARS IS URGED BY MOTOR CLUB

Citing an acute shortage of automobile mechanics caused by the war, the Pennsylvania Motor federation and the Gettysburg Motor club today urged motorists not to wait until the last minute to have their cars inspected under the current semi-annual inspection period which ends January 31.

An official of the Pennsylvania Motor federation-AAA declared that prompt action on the part of motorists in having their automobiles inspected will give them several advantages.

"Among these advantages," Richard B. Maxwell, secretary-manager of the PMP, said, "will be the assurance that through avoiding a last-minute rush, the motorist will not run the risk of being without his car for several days after the deadline for inspections due to garages being overcrowded with work."

In Shape For Winter

"An early check-up will also prove advantageous to motorists in that it will put their automobile in shape for winter driving, and necessary changes for severe winter weather conditions can be made at the same time the car is being inspected," he added.

Mr. Maxwell pointed out that "the majority of cars on the road today have about reached the limit of their endurance, many of them are a menace to safety and an early inspection will be a safeguard against accidents from mechanical defects."

The motor vehicle code provides that if inspection discloses the need for adjustments to bring the vehicle in conformance with safety regulations, it is compulsory that these adjustments be made within the inspection period if the owner desires to operate his car after the January 31 deadline. It is unlawful to operate after the close of an inspection period, unless a certificate for the period is displayed on the vehicle.

Says Reconversion Ahead Of Schedule

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—President Truman said today that the administration has not been asleep on the job of reconversion, in fact, that its program is far ahead of schedule.

The President made this comment at a news conference, in releasing a formal statement dealing with the first hundred days of reconversion progress.

In his statement, the President said that unemployment is far less than had been expected; that the job of reconverting war plants "is virtually completed"; and that time lost through work stoppages since August is only "0.76 of one per cent of the total working time available."

While the President in his statement spoke cheerfully of what has been accomplished, he declared that "inflationary pressures are still great, and danger signals pointing to a further building up through winter and spring are the rise of real estate, wholesale and raw materials prices."

WILL TESTIFY

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall will testify at a Congressional investigation of the Pearl Harbor attack before leaving for China as President Truman's special envoy.

USES SEEKS TO FIND 5,000 MEN COAST GUARDS

A drive to obtain 5,000 civilian marine workers to replace members of the crews of the United States Coast Guards, who are manning nearly 300 army vessels assigned to the Southwest Pacific, has been started by the United States Employment Service in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

E. A. Crouse, manager of the USES for Adams county announced today that in cooperation with the Army's Transportation Corps, which has been charged with the responsibility of obtaining these civilians so that Coast Guard personnel may be returned to this country at once, the USES' 144 local offices throughout the three states will try to recruit these workers at once.

Army Transportation Corps' officials explain that the vessels assigned to that Theatre of Operations must continue for some time, getting supplies to the men stationed there and helping to return army veterans to this country.

Cut In Strength

"The current program to reduce the Coast Guards to peacetime strength as quickly as possible demands that these workers be obtained. Necessary replacements are not available in the Pacific area, either from civilian or military circles, and this drive must succeed. All USES Area Directors and local office managers through the region have been advised to extend every effort to get these marine workers quickly. We have been told that 1,800 of these workers must reach the Pacific area before the end of this year."

Army transportation officials have announced that these workers will be employed as Civil Service employees under expected appointments (appointments which are made directly by the army rather than through Civil Service channels) and must execute an employment contract calling for a minimum service of one year from the date of their arrival in the Pacific theater.

They will be entitled to the benefits of annual and sick leave granted by Civil Service, and benefits from the United States Employee's Compensation Act, for injuries sustained while in the performance of duty. Civil Service retirement benefits also will be available. They further are entitled to the War Risk benefits, bonuses and medical care and hospitalization for illness or injuries sustained in the lines of duty.

Pay Is Reported

Among the required personnel are: Master, $3,440; first officers, $3,102; chief engineers, $3,440; first assistant engineers, $3,102; class C vessels and chief cooks, $2,610; able bodied seamen, $1,740, and others, $1,860. Salary rates basis per annum salaries. Overtime compensation will be paid in accordance with maritime practices prevailing at the place where the overtime work is performed. Area bonuses in the amount of $2.50 per day will be paid while in the Pacific area.

Officers are entitled to a cash allowance of $250 for uniforms, provided no similar marine allowance has been received by such officers from the United States government within five years. Chief cooks will receive cash allowances for uniforms of $120 but other personnel will be furnished with uniforms by the government.

Employed personnel first will be sent to the New Orleans Port of Embarkation for orientation and indoctrination prior to their assignment to the Pacific Theatre. Employees will be furnished subsistence and quarters at the expense of the government, in addition to wages, except when in a travel status while in the United States, when a per diem of $6.00 will be allowed.

Crouse announced that men interested in obtaining these positions, for which there are no age requirements other than the fact that a man selected must be able to perform the duties of his position, should report at once to the United States Employment Service office nearest his home. The manager stated that here is a chance for men to help get supplies to the men in the Southwest Pacific and help to bring other veterans from the area to their homes.

In addition to applications being received at the United States Employment Service offices throughout the three states, applicants may file for these jobs at the following offices: Army Transportation Corps Headquarters, Tower building, Baltimore; Transportation headquarters in Philadelphia, 1236 Broad street Station building, and at the New York offices of the corps, 25 Broad street and First avenue at 58th street.

CHARGE FUNERAL HOUR

The hour for the funeral for Mrs. Effa M. Wierman, formerly of Arendtsville, who died Tuesday in Philadelphia, has been changed from 10 o'clock Friday morning to 10:30 o'clock, it was announced today. The services will be held at the Routsong-Dugan funeral home, Bendersville.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. William Breighner, Gettysburg R. 3, announce the birth of a son this afternoon at the Warner hospital.

A son was born this morning at the Warner hospital to Mr. and Mrs. John Herring, Gettysburg R. 2.

Clair Taylor, Biglerville R. D., accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Fremont W. Weigle on their trip to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce R. Taylor, Biglerville, have received word that their son, Sgt. Ralph Taylor, who has been in service in the South Pacific area for two years has arrived at Tacoma, Washington.

Clair Shillito, Harry Geiselman and Vincent Hawbaker were in Harrisburg on business today.

Corp. Fred Slaybaugh, Aspers, who recently received his discharge from the army, has enrolled at a business college in Harrisburg. He served with the Third Army overseas and wears five battle stars and a Purple Heart medal.

John Brown, Fairfield, who was recently discharged from the army, has accepted a position in the insecticide department of the C. H. Musselman company plant at Biglerville.

Edward Logan, who is a former prisoner of war of the Germans, has returned to his job in the warehouse of the Musselman plant.

Miss Phyllis Peters has resumed her studies at Pennsylvania State college after the Thanksgiving recess spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peters, of Aspers.

Robert P. Wentz, of Biglerville, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Philadelphia where he attended an Inter-State Milk convention.

A birthday dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mrs. William O. Routsong, Bendersville, in honor of her son, Leroy S. Routsong, EM 2/c, who is at home on a 30-day leave and in honor of Mrs. Routsong who celebrated her birthday anniversary. Present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. John Stanke, of Gettysburg; Doris Dugan, Virginia Dugan, Mrs. Forrest Hosband, Mrs. Ruth Es-worth, Mrs. Mae Dugan and John Dugan, of Harrisburg; Mrs. Frances Orner, Mrs. Donald Garretson, Miss June Peters, Dorothy Routsong, Madeline Routsong, Junior Routsong, Glenn Taylor, Ralph Rice, Jr., Lee Dugan, Joel Dugan, and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dugan, of Bendersville.

A musical program will be presented at the Heidlersburg United Brethren church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The program is being sponsored by the Young People of the church.

Daniel Dentler, of Biglerville, is spending the winter at Deland, Fla., with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dentler. During his stay there, he is employed on his uncle's fruit farm.

The Biglerville high school will present Dickens' "Christmas Carol" Thursday and Friday evenings, December 13, 14, under the direction of Miss Lena Boyer, of the faculty. The play is being sponsored by the school's Peter Pan Players Dramatic club. A feature of the evening will be the group singing of familiar carols by the audience preceding the rise of the curtain.

NO NEED FOR BIG 3 PARLEYS

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—President Truman said today he saw no need for any more Big Three conferences if the United Nations organization works as it should.

Asked at a news conference whether revisions in Allied control policy and machinery for Germany might require a meeting of himself, Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee, Mr. Truman said he was not in favor of special conferences.

He wants the United Nations to do its job, he added, asserting he remembers that the League of Nations was ruined by special conferences. The President stated he hopes the United Nations would take over within the next 90 days all the problems previously worked out by Big Three meetings.

HOME FROM OVERSEAS

Capt. Maxwell Barach, The Old Stone House, Zora, has returned home after 21 months' service overseas. He was a member of the 40th Division staff and served in the Philippines and Korea.

DISORDERLY CHARGE

Borough police arrested Lester Goodermuth, 42, South Washington street, at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday on a disorderly conduct charge preferred by his wife, Mrs. Blanche Goodermuth, 34 West Middle street. He was committed to jail pending a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder this afternoon.

SUM FOR DEPOSITORS

Philadelphia, Nov. 29 (AP)—William C. Freeman, state secretary of banking, announced today depositors of the closed Coatesville Trust company, Coatesville, who have received 100 per cent in dividend payments amounting to $811,933.59, will receive a pro rata distribution November 30 of $67,801.46 or 8.35 per cent, representing interest due on deposit claims since the bank's closing.

Arendtsville Books Pre - Season Games

The Arendtsville Vocational high school basketball team will engage in several informal practice games next week in preparation for the opening of the 1945-46 court campaign on the Arendtsville floor December 7. The opening fee will be Washington Township high school which will make a strong bid for the Franklin county Class "B" PIAA championship this year. A preliminary game will bring together the Washington Township and Arendtsville girls.

Coach H. Vernon Blough's quintet, undefeated in Adams county competition the past two years, will have an entirely new starting cast this year with the exception of Bob Allison who has been holding down a regular forward berth for three seasons. Despite the loss of four starters from last year's championship club, Arendtsville will be out to retain the county diadem again this season.

All - Star Cage Team Organized

Arendtsville is organizing an all-star basketball team composed of former high school players and is interested in carding games with other county all-star aggregations. Teams interested in playing games on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings are requested to contact H. Vernon Blough, Arendtsville.

Five recent graduates of the Arendtsville Vocational high school have signed with the club. This nucleus includes Paul Fissel, Richard Slaybaugh, Glenn Slaybaugh, Homer Baltzley and Roney Baltzley. The latter was recently discharged from the Armed Forces after serving with the Eighth Air Force in England.

Lewistown Buys Its Water Works

Harrisburg, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Public Utility commission today approved the purchase by the municipal authority of Lewistown, of the stock, water works facilities, rights and franchises of the Lewistown-Reedsville Water company for $1,650,000.

The commission said "we have found that the consideration which the authority would pay for the water works is a fair and economically sound one, from the point of view of the public interest."

It added that while various protests had been filed against approval, "There is no evidence that authority could not furnish water service to the public at least equal in quantity and quality to that now being furnished by Lewistown (company)."

The authority told the commission that the water works' average net income under authority ownership would be $101,304 after deduction of estimated operating expenses of $38,895. It also estimated that the company's net income for 1943 was only $48,599 after deduction of operating expenses of $103,059. The main difference came from dropping from authority's expense list of items of $31,409 for taxes and $27,005 for depreciation, contained in company expenses.

Judge - Elect Quits As District Attorney

Erie, Pa., Nov. 29 (AP)—Burton R. Laub, who was elected judge of Erie county common pleas court three weeks ago, announced his resignation as district attorney yesterday.

He said he plans to rest until Jan. 7, when he will assume the judgeship.

His final appearance as district attorney was made Monday before the Supreme court in Philadelphia to oppose the appeal of John D. West and Robert W. Pepperman, both of Williamsport, Pa., convicted slayers of an Erie man.

DISMISS PETITION

Harrisburg, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Public Utility Commission dismissed today the petition of Pennsylvania Electric Co., Johnstown, for leave to intervene in the complaint of Northwestern Mining & Exchange company of Erie, with main offices at Dunmore, Lackawanna county, charging refusal of West Penn Power Co., Pittsburgh, to furnish power at the mining company's power plant in Helen Mills, Elk county.

LEGAL HOUSING

Columbia, S. C., (AP)—Lawyers coming back to Columbia from military service can't find office space, so as a temporary expedient they will be allowed to hang out their shingles outside circuit and county courtrooms.

Clerk of Court Clarence Hinnant served notice on them, however, that they would have to vacate their "offices" when the courts are in session.

COUPLE MOVES HERE

Capt. and Mrs. Joseph H. Riley moved today from Nyack, N. Y., and will occupy their apartment at 129 Chambersburg street, recently vacated by the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Frank.

Lions Bowlers Beat Waynesboro Team

Nine Gettysburg Lions went to Waynesboro Wednesday evening, attended the weekly meeting of the Lions club there and then defeated the Waynesboro clubmen on the bowling alleys in three games with a total score of 1,787 to 1,784.

The local Lions who made the trip were C. A. Cluck, Radford Lip-py, Donald Myers, D. E. Hess, Glenn L. Bream, Barton Poth, Cloyd Shetter, Kenneth P. Hull and Robert Smith. The meeting was held at the Anthony Wayne hotel.

Truman Approves GM Parley Suggestion

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—President Truman expressed belief today that executives of the General Motors Corporation should sit down and talk over a wage dispute with representatives of striking CIO unionists.

He gave this opinion at a news conference after a reporter asked him about similar recommendations by the advisory board of the War Mobilization and Reconversion Office.

The advisory board, a reporter said, suggested that the General Motors executives sit down and talk things over with the strikers. He asked Mr. Truman whether he thought that would be a good idea. The President replied: "I do."

MADE DISTRICT HEAD

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—William Blizard, former vice president of district 17 (West Virginia) of the United Mine Workers, has been elevated to district president, succeeding Percy Tetlow, veteran aide of John L. Lewis. Tetlow will serve as international representative, working from the Washington headquarters of the union, it was announced here.

EXPECT DRIVE TO INCREASE SUPPLY BILL

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee braced for a stand today against a drive to add another $124,475,000 to a deficiency supply bill after House approval of amendments providing $38,000,000 for four new Pennsylvania veterans hospitals and improvement of another.

Chairman Cannon, (D-Mo.), pleaded against adding to increases which already have boosted by $182,820,000 the total funds provided in the measure. It started through the House Tuesday with an overall total of $1,131,452,312.

Cannon told newsmen he saw little chance of stopping an amendment slated for consideration today which would add $124,475,000 for navigation and flood control projects turned down by the committee.

The districts of several hundred members are affected by one or more of the projects, he remarked.

Two committee-opposed amendments went into the bill yesterday. One added $24,500,000 for temporary housing for homeless veterans and their families. The other tacked on $158,320,000 for new hospitals and living quarters for the Veterans Administration.

"This is plain demagoguery," Cannon told reporters. "It won't help the veterans and it won't help the hospital program, which is a long range program now being developed. There already has been appropriated $84,000,000 for hospitals and the Veterans Administration doesn't expect its peak load of patients until around 1970. There is no need to rush this thing through and upset the entire

JAPANESE DIET DISCUSSES PLAN OF GOVERNMENT

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Nov. 29 (AP)—Half-hearted applause greeted a suggestion in the Japanese diet today that the emperor system should be perpetuated under a Japanese-style democracy.

Premier Kijure Shidehara and one of Japan's leading reconstruction politicians, Ichiro Hatoyama, both voiced the opinion in an unprecedented legislative discussion in the house.

Hatoyama, leader of the Liberal party, drew only polite applause when he said the "emperor system must be retained" as bulwark against "possible dictatorships." Shidehara voiced agreement.

The Liberal leader demanded to know the limits of the government's contemplated democratization. The premier replied with a definition of democracy as "representation of the will of the people."

Follow Doug's Orders

This, Shidehara declared, was assured by freedom of thought, press and "equality of individuals."

The premier later ignored a statement by one member that he "presumed the cabinet will resign right after this diet session."

The Japanese House of Peers must break with ancient precedent and open its doors to the press at all sessions henceforth.

The ruling was issued today by the Japanese liaison section of SCAP (Supreme Commander, Allied Powers) in compliance with the wishes of General MacArthur.

The reluctance of Japan's post-surrender government to get on with reforms until told to do specific things by MacArthur was pounced on today by the Japanese press.

Textile Workers Drop Strike Vote

Pittsburgh, Nov. 29 (AP)—The CIO-Textile Workers Union of America has withdrawn its request for a strike vote at seven plants of the American Viscose corporation, in three states.

The balloting was scheduled for today at company plants in Meadville, Lewistown and Marcus Hook, Pa., Front Royal and Roanoke, Va., and Parkersburg and Nitro, W. Va. Withdrawal of the strike vote request was announced by the National Labor Relations Board here last night.

In Wilmington, Del., company President W. C. Appleton said the contract had been rewritten to the satisfaction of the workers and management. One of the provisions is a 10-cents-an-hour wage boost which becomes effective when the company goes back to a 48-hour week Monday.

Michael Bunga said the elderly couple was apparently overcome by fumes from a gas stove.

ENTERPRISE

The world is changed by enterprise, and oh, my boy, 'tis plain That enterprise is of the heart and of the questioning brain. It's nothing law can hold in check, for men will trade their youth And spend their time and strength To find a single grain of truth.

There is no way to hold the man who has the pluck to try The mountain height or ocean bed where hidden truth may lie. The lad with vision in his eyes on hands and knees will grope Toward the distant fact he sees, sustained alone by hope.

Nor wall nor gate will hold him back nor warnings seeming wise, Nor failure, time and time again. The man with enterprise. Will follow, night and day, his dream and every field explore, Until he justifies his faith—and life is changed once more.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

FAR-OFF GOOD

There is no one who can adequately estimate the power and influence of the newspaper, magazine or the radio. Neither can anyone measure that of a single good book. All keep distributing far-off good.

Most of the things we say in conversation with others are easily forgotten, yet there is always something that remains, unconsciously. We are daily influenced that way. Impressions are left behind wherever the eye, ear, or voice, is concerned. They are our educators.

We cannot perform a good deed, write or speak an encouraging word, without starting each upon a far-off trip whose full import for good may never be revealed. Often to the far corners of the earth do these travel.

A friend of mine told me how she had picked up a copy of Kenneth Graham's beautiful book, "The Wind and The Willows," in a small Arizona tea room. She seemed so surprised to find this favorite book so far away, but its owner was just as surprised to find one who loved this book as she did. You will always find real and living books in the most unexpected corners of this world!

We may say things, write things, and do things, and think that no attention has been paid to them, but they all live. Our influence so often takes hold where least expected. Who can measure the influence of the millions of books sent to our boys in this second World War? Millions have been left behind, and any number of them have been read and re-read. Every copy a salesman for the far-off Good!

Influence is so much greater than mere fame. The latter is all too often wiped out almost over night, but good influence goes on forever.

As in my case, I am sure that many another can recall many an incident of kindly encouragement over the years that has been of the greatest influence. Perhaps many of these incidents didn't seem very important at the time, but loomed important in after life. I can never forget the kindness of a man whose encouragement meant the finishing of my college course.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Lifters"

Philadelphia Area Strong For Strike

Philadelphia, Nov. 29 (AP)—Votes of United Steel Workers membership in plants of Philadelphia and vicinity showed an overwhelming majority favoring a strike.

The narrowest margin came in the vote of Local 2,898, covering the Philadelphia plants of SKF Industries, Incorporated, which have been shut down in a labor dispute since October 1. The ballot there was 685 in favor of the strike to 477 opposed. The plants employ 3,000.

The National Labor Relations Board's regional office announced that throughout the 113 plants of the Philadelphia region, the vote was 6.2 to 1 in favor of a strike.

Out Of The Past From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Thomas George Wedded Sunday: Thomas George, proprietor of the Gettysburg Shoe Shining Parlor, Chambersburg street, and Miss Mary Anthony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sava Anthony, of Lebanon, were married by the Rev. Dr. G. Menexopoulos, of Reading, at the apartment over the shoe shining establishment at 8 o'clock Sunday evening in the presence of 100 persons.

Ernest Kranias, Chambersburg street, and Mrs. Kranias were the attendants at the ceremony which was performed with all of the form and ritual of the Greek church.

Preceding the wedding three children were baptized. They were George Svarnas, John Mitchell and Gladys Kranias.

License to Wed: A marriage license was issued Saturday at the office of the clerk of the courts to Albert W. McClellan, Hamiltonban township, and Miss Elizabeth A. Eiker, Liberty township.

County Couple Wedded Saturday: Harry S. Auchey and Miss Blanche Miller, both of Codorus township, Adams county, motored to Westminster Saturday evening and were married in St. Paul's Reformed parsonage by the pastor, the Rev. J. N. Garner.

Wedded in Town: On Thanksgiving Day, the Rev. C. C. Cole, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church joined in matrimony Carson Speelman, Biglerville R. 1, and Miss Bertha Fahnstock, Gardners R. 1.

Offering is $28 at Union Service: The ingratitude of nine-tenths of the people in the United States, who should be giving thanks for their many comforts and blessings was pointed out by the Rev. C. C. Cole, speaking at the annual union Thanksgiving Day service at the Presbyterian church, Thursday morning.

The offering amounting to $28 was turned over to the Civic Nursing association, following a custom of recent years.

Bullets Win Annual Clash from F-M 3-0: Gettysburg college's Orange and Blue football aggregation won their annual turkey day classic from the Blue and White tribe of Franklin-Marshall college before more than 12,000 persons, 3 to 0. It was one of the hardest fought games of the season for the Bullets, and although they outplayed their Lancaster opponents they were unable to cross the line and were forced to be content with a dropkick from the mighty toe of Charley Spangler.

Turkey Prices Soar Skyward: A survey of leading turkey growers in Adams county shows the national bird is selling from 40 to 50 cents a pound live weight. These figures are slightly higher than last year, and somewhat above the figures quoted in the cities and in other turkey counties of the state.

Ducks are selling at 25 cents a pound, and chickens at 28 cents a pound live weight at local produce houses.

Birth Announcement: Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Miller, South Washington street, announce the birth of a son, Floyd Jacob, Jr., October 28.

State Police Station Here is Retained: If Gettysburg and Adams county will finance the maintenance of the Gettysburg substation of state police to the extent of $156 a year, the local station will not be discontinued. In line with the possible adoption of this action, the order abandoning the local sub-station has been revoked and for the time being at least, Gettysburg will continue to house state troopers.

License to Wed: A marriage license was issued Wednesday afternoon at the office of the clerk of the courts here to Harold A. Smith, York, and Miss Edna C. Hershey, York Springs.

Attending Association Meeting: Henry M. Scharf, manager of the Hotel Gettysburg, left Monday evening for Watkins, New York, where he will attend a meeting of the "Canada to Florida" tours association.

Honor Memory of Fred C. Rice: Gloom spread over the campus of Gettysburg college Wednesday as the full shock of the death of Fred C. Rice, 21, son of Rev. S. L. Rice, Steinwehr avenue, a member of the sophomore class, gripped the student consciousness. The young man died Tuesday at the Carlisle hospital of injuries suffered in an automobile accident Sunday night.

Members of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, of which young Rice was a member, Wednesday held memorial services at the funeral parlors of H. B. Bender & Son, Baltimore street, over the body of their fraternity brother.

Sacred Concert: The Citizens' Band of Gettysburg will give a sacred concert at the AME Zion church Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, according to Rev. R. G. Frazier, pastor. The choir of the local church will assist in the concert.

MARSHALL MAY LEAVE TODAY FOR CHUNGKING

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Armed with broad powers, Gen. George C. Marshall sped preparations today for a quick flight to China as his predecessor's explosive resignation headed for an airing on capitol hill.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told reporters he plans to call both Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes before a closed door session, perhaps Monday.

The purpose, Connally said, will be an informal discussion of Hurley's contention that he had been crossed up as ambassador to China by subordinates both in the State Department and at Chungking.

No Big Probe

Connally stressed, however, that he has no intention of ordering any such full-dress hearing as Senator Wherry (R-Nebr) demanded in a bitter Senate speech late yesterday. This would have covered just about everything connected with the State Department, the Atlantic Charter and the Potsdam Big Three agreement.

It appeared, meanwhile, that Marshall might get off for Chungking sometime today.

As personal representative of President Truman and retaining his five-star, general of the army rank, Marshall will be able to exercise virtually unlimited authority over American personnel, both military and diplomatic.

The former army chief of staff has the absolute backing of Mr. Truman, and observers agree that anyone who fails to do what Marshall seriously wants done might very well find himself packing his bags for home.

"Skirts On Treason" Hurley's tartly-worded resignation echoed in both wings of the capitol yesterday, climaxed by Wherry's speech in the Senate.

The Nebraskan told his colleagues that the action of some foreign service personnel in the Far East as described by Hurley "skirts the very edge of treason itself."

He referred, Wherry said, to Hurley's contention that "the professional foreign service men sided with the Chinese Communist armed party and the imperialistic bloc of nations whose policy it was to keep China divided against herself."

SAYS MARSHALL WILL SURVEY CHINA PICTURE

By SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, Nov. 29 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, U. S. commander in China, told newsmen today that he thought General Marshall was being sent to China "to make a survey of the situation and make appropriate recommendations to the President concerning future U. S. assistance—or military aid—to China."

General Marshall is coming to China as special envoy, replacing temporarily at least the resigned U. S. ambassador Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley.

Chinese press dispatches meanwhile reported Nationalists have halted their fighting advance toward Mukden, Manchuria, because Russians allegedly agreed to their peaceful entry later into that historic, industrially-rich city.

Denies Report

The dispatches said that Nationalists now are mopping up Chinese Communist resistance in the area between Shaohaiwan, great-wall gateway to Manchuria, and Kowpangze, a rail junction 90 miles beyond.

Speculate On New PUC Commissioner

Harrisburg, Nov. 29 (AP)—Governor Martin may look to Philadelphia or the Pittsburgh area for a new Public Utility Commissioner to fill the vacancy created by the recent death of Ralph W. Thorne, an administration source indicated today.

The source, who preferred to remain unidentified, said "if the place goes to southeast Pennsylvania, City Treasurer Edgar W. Baird, Jr., of Philadelphia, will receive strong consideration."

He explained, however, that the southwestern section also has no representation on the commission while Philadelphia at least has commission counsel—Vincent P. McDevitt.

Among the half dozen persons mentioned for the place in addition to Baird is Charles Nuss, Washington county engineer.

German Red Cross Head Is Arrested

Nuernberg, Germany, Nov. 29 (AP)—The U. S. military government at Coburg today announced the arrest of Karl Eduard, Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha and a grandson of Britain's Queen Victoria.

The duke was president of the German Red Cross and had a general's rank in the Nazi storm troops. The Nazis used English-born Karl Eduard as a show piece to demonstrate that the German aristocracy favored the Nazi regime.

The 61-year-old duke's estates have been confiscated.

In his conference, General Wedemeyer told correspondents that he had been discussing with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and Premier T. V. Soong the disposal of surplus U. S. property in west China.

The report that 700 U. S. planes were being flown over the hump from India to China was incorrect, he added. They merely were being collected in Shanghai, he said, and if the Chinese wanted to buy them they could; if not, they might be sold to someone else or shipped back to the United States.

FOUR PAPERS ELECTED TO AP SERVICE

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—Four newspapers were elected to membership in the Associated Press yesterday at a special meeting at which members also amended the association's by-laws.

The by-laws, one of which eliminated consideration of competitive factors in voting upon applicants for membership, were amended to conform with a federal court decree respecting admission of members and with the current operations of the corporation.

The Chicago Sun, a morning newspaper, was elected to associate membership by a vote of 949 to 34.

Elected to regular memberships were:

Hearst Publications, Inc., Oakland (Calif.) Post-Enquirer, day report, by a vote of 965 to 21; Eleanor Medall Patterson, Washington (D.C.) Times Herald, day and night reports, by a vote of 962 to 23, and the Times Publishing company, Detroit Times, day report, by a vote of 965 to 21.

Changed Request

Marshall Field of the Chicago Sun had asked originally for a regular membership but requested later an associate membership. He said he could not conform to the by-laws required for regular membership because of contractual relations by which the Chicago Sun had agreed to furnish news of Chicago origin to the United Press.

As under present by-laws, associate members may not vote, nor share in the assets of the corporation, nor may their representatives hold office.

The amended by-laws include this provision concerning election of members:

"In voting upon an application for membership, whether such voting be by the members or by the board of directors, no member or director shall take into consideration in passing upon such application the effect of his or its admission upon the ability of such applicant to compete with members in the same city and field." (Morning, evening or Sunday.)

The board of directors, in a report to the meeting, noted that the District Court had imposed upon the Associated Press a permanent injunction "intended to enforce compliance with its edict that competitive factors shall not be taken into consideration in passing upon applicants for membership."

The board said in the report that when the AP had fulfilled the requirements of the decree and "by the election of the applicants shall have evidenced the good faith of the association in carrying out that decree," it would consult with the Department of Justice for the purpose of proposing to the District Court that the injunction be lifted.

Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune presented a resolution urging Congress to amend anti-trust laws so that any press service would not be prohibited from "exercising its own discretion in the selection of its customers or from furnishing its press services on the express or implied condition, agreement or understanding not to furnish the press services which it is furnishing to a customer to any other newspaper or newspapers in the community of the customer."

McCormick said he had 500 proxies in support of the resolution. Roy Roberts of the Kansas City Star said that consideration of the resolution was not in order since only business specified in the call for the meeting could be taken up.

Roberts suggested the resolution be held for consideration at the April meeting and McCormick agreed.

PLENTY OF DEER IN PENN'S WOODS OFFICIALS SAY

Harrisburg, Nov. 29 (AP)—The hunter won't have to hunt very far to find plenty of deer in Penn's woods, the Game Commission predicted today.

As a matter of fact, the fleet animals are so plentiful they're a nuisance in back yards and on the highways in some urban sections, particularly southeastern Pennsylvania.

During the 15-day season which opens Saturday, the commission estimated upwards of 250,000 men and women—including many returning servicemen enjoying their first one-sided warfare since Pearl Harbor—will turn out. The hunting hours are 7 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Plea For Careful Hunting
Either bucks or does—but not the young spike bucks whose horns haven't started to branch out—may be shot in Lancaster, Chester, Montgomery, Delaware, Philadelphia and Bucks counties, and in the portions of Dauphin, Lebanon, Berks, Lehigh and Northampton counties lying south of U. S. Route 22.

The prospect of good hunting and an opening-day concentration of nimrods prompted the commission to renew its pleas for careful handling of weapons, wearing of plenty of bright red and restraint of itchy trigger-fingers.

Each hunter is entitled to bag one deer. The limit is six for each hunting party of six or more. The game must be tagged within an hour after being killed and before the carcass is moved, and the kill must be reported to the commission by December 20.

Bear Kill Is Good
Venison may be retained without a permit for 60 days after the season ends, and for another four months with a permit costing $1. The skins may be sold within 90 days after the close of the season.

Reports from the first two days of the four-day bear season indicated that at least 258 bruins had fallen before the guns of Pennsylvania's hunters, with 15 cubs killed illegally.

Seth Gordon, executive director of the State Game Commission said that when the final shot of the bear season is fired tonight the bag will have compared favorably with last year's 277 and 1943's kill of 307.

Two deaths were reported since the bear season got under way, and seven other persons were wounded by hunters who were "shooting at somebody in mistake for a bear."

SEE REVISION OF U. S. POLICY FOR GERMANY

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—A drastic revision of American policy on Germany is expected by diplomatic officials to result from Byron Price's report to President Truman on the potential failure of present German administration.

One result of any such change may be to eliminate to a great extent the remaining influence of Henry Morgenthau, Jr., over German control policy.

With his "Morgenthau plan"—a so-called hard-peace plan—the former Secretary of the Treasury had great influence in the writing of the basic German policy directive. This is the directive—known as JCS 1067—under which the American military government in Germany functioned originally and from which it still draws considerable authority even though the Big Three declaration at Potsdam is now the basic guide.

Price recommended that JCS 1067 be rewritten "into a few hundred words of general principles."

He said its detailed provisions "fall with untold force upon General Eisenhower's officers, now long experienced in the actual business of dealing with the Germans."

Mr. Truman's special emissary also laid emphasis on the need to increase German production to a point at which it would help to make Germany self-sustaining by providing exports to match needed imports.

Time For Changes

Mr. Truman transmitted the report to the Secretaries of State, War and Navy yesterday with a recommendation that they give it careful consideration with a view to taking joint action. He called Price, former director of censorship, "an able and experienced observer."

It was considered probable that the report would be made the subject of early conferences among the three departments and that these would be directed towards finding ways of carrying out Price's main objectives.

Price in his 5,000-word report credited the military under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower with having done an excellent job so far. But he said the time has come now when the initial military objectives of rendering Germany harmless have been achieved and decisions must be made on more basic, long-range goals.

New Bosses For Striking Diggers

Pittsburgh, Nov. 29 (AP)—The 350 Shawmut Mining company coal diggers who have been on strike since last July seeking better living conditions in their company-owned villages today had two new "bosses."

Thomas C. Buchanan, of Beaver, Pa., former Pennsylvania Public Utility commissioner, and Pittsburgh Certified Accountant Robert C. Sproul, Jr., were replacing Attorney John D. Dickson of Wellsville, N. Y., to head the equity receivership of the Pittsburgh, Shawmut and Northern Railroad company.

A spokesman for employees of the subsidiary mining company charged in court Tuesday that Dickson "couldn't take time to sit down with his men." And that they felt they could never deal with him.

MOTHER OF EIGHT DIES

Butler, Pa., Nov. 29 (AP)—Two hours after her husband, a sailor, arrived home from the Navy, Mrs. Frank Eprfora, 32, mother of eight children, died of burns yesterday in Butler county memorial hospital. She was injured Tuesday when fire destroyed her home near here. None of the children was injured.

All cloth from which British army uniforms are cut is dipped in a DDT solution.

PRIMARY DAY, ELECTION ONLY SURE '46 DATES

Harrisburg, Nov. 29 (AP)—Pennsylvania politics, always simmering, reach the boiling stage next year on May 21—primary election day—and November 5—general election day. Voters will choose a new governor and name a U. S. senator, members of Congress and the Legislature.

Those two dates are the only ones certain in the 1946 election calendar made public today by Charles M. Morrison, secretary of the commonwealth.

Any sudden decision by President Truman or Congress to declare the war officially over may throw the rest of the dates in the calendar—for registration, circulation of nomination petitions, and scores of other technical steps in the election process—out of kilter, the elections bureau explained today.

For Duration Only
That is because wartime laws affecting the elections were made applicable only for the duration, largely because so many voters were in the armed services, and it was necessary to give plenty of time for getting military ballots overseas and back.

Subject to change by a declaration of the war's end, the election-calling may start officially February 19, when candidates for the recognized parties may begin gathering signatures for their nomination petitions. Independents may start getting signers for their nomination papers on March 11.

Candidates who change their mind about running have until March 18 to withdraw. That also is the deadline for filing objections to nomination petitions. Registrations for the primary close March 30—the last day, also, for changing party or non-partisan enrollment until after the general election.

Registration Dates
The lid closes April 10 on filing candidates' nomination papers.

Registration of voters after the primary election will start May 27, and end September 14.

Members of the parties' state committees, elected at the primary, must meet for organization not later than June 26.

Two dates in the election calendar govern moving-day for citizens who don't want to lose their voting privileges temporarily: March 21 is the last day an elector may move

Phila. Pigeons To Die, Court Rules

Philadelphia, Nov. 29 (AP)—Philadelphia's pigeons, condemned to death by city ordinance, had their day in court—and lost.

Common Pleas Judge Joseph L. Kun refused to extend a temporary injunction yesterday preventing the execution of 400 birds "jailed" in the city's animal house.

Simultaneously, the jurist hinted that all the city's pigeons are doomed. "I think it has been demonstrated to everyone's satisfaction that the health department had a reasonable basis for what they did about the pigeons," Judge Kun said. "We have found that the city discovered approximately 40 per cent of the pigeons positive in tests for the psittacosis type of disease (virus pneumonia). All we have to determine is whether the city has a reasonable basis for its action."

NO CRIME WAVE IN STATE, SAYS COMMISSIONER

Harrisburg, Nov. 29 (AP)—A decrease in major crimes in rural areas of Pennsylvania and a slight increase in juvenile delinquency since V-J Day was reported today by Col. C. M. Wilhelm, commissioner of the Pennsylvania State Police.

"There is no crime wave in Pennsylvania," the police head stated. "We have nothing like the situation reported in New York city."

Miss S. M. R. O'Hara, secretary of welfare, said the department has instituted a study of "the general subject of crime prevention in all its phases" with the hope of laying "the foundation for proposals to the general assembly, to the courts and to other agencies dealing with crime and delinquency."

Miss O'Hara emphasized that clearer definitions are needed of what is delinquency explaining that what is considered harmful in some communities passes unnoticed in others.

Upturn In Accidents
Wilhelm, in his review of the present situation on law breaking, said the biggest problem at present for state police is an abnormal increase in accident fatalities, "not only on highways, but even in homes."

"All available men are on the highways trying to combat the upward trend," Wilhelm said. "One of the factors we have noticed is that the age of highway offenders is going down. It is the 17- to 20-year-olds who are most frequently involved."

He attributed the increase in highway fatalities to the quick change from restrictions on driving to an open door era when you could get all the gasoline you wanted."

"Electronic Raspberry" Of Allies Fouled Axis Radar

By FRANK CAREY

(Associated Press Science Writer)

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Allied ability to give an "electronic raspberry" to the axis—with all the gusto of a Bronx cheer—helped clear the road to victory.

The "electronic raspberry" is a nickname for the art of jamming an enemy radar set by cluttering its beam with radio interference. This results in a confusion of patterns on the radar scope so that any targets are obliterated.

It is one of the techniques disclosed last night in another great science story of the war—an American military and scientific report on the vital role played by "radar countermeasures" in the defeat of Germany and Japan.

Radar Little Aid to Axis
The armed forces and the office of scientific research and development credit radar countermeasures with blinding and confusing the enemy's radar "eyes" at crucial points in the war, including D-Day in Europe.

They said the various technicians reduced by 75 per cent the effectiveness of German radar-controlled antiaircraft fire and helped knock out many a Jap radar during the American advance across the Pacific.

And they declared that while the enemy tried the same tactics against us, they did it effectively on only a few occasions.

"It can be said," a joint report declared, "that we had radar and got the most out of it; the Axis also had radar, but because of our countermeasures got very little out of it."

Aluminum Decoys
The story unfolded by the American military and scientific chiefs also lifted the veil for the first time on what happened to most of that aluminum foil which disappeared from cigarette packs and candy bar wrappers during the war.

War-time production of aluminum foil in this country increased threefold over the peacetime rate—and 75 per cent of it went for the manufacture of another device which paid off royally in the electronic warfare against the Axis.

The device is aluminum "chaff" or "window"—small, thin strips of metal which were dropped from planes or shot aloft from ships to provide "decoys" against the prying radar eyes of the foe.

Answer $64 Question
The strips reflect radar beams, even as does an airplane or a ship, and on the radar scope the reflection patterns of the "decoys" serve to screen the reflection of the actual target.

A single plane can carry sufficient aluminum strips to give "echoes" comparable to those given by a 100 of 700 bombers. Behind the veiling screen of "chaff" a single vessel can take on the appearance of a task force, a single airplane can take on the stature of a mighty armada.

In this connection the War department provided an answer to a

SNOW AND RAIN BLANKET STATE

Harrisburg, Nov. 29 (AP)—The weather bureau reported up to a foot of snow in the central Pennsylvania mountains today but in the eastern district there were heavy rains reaching a maximum of 3.33 inches in Philadelphia.

The heaviest snowfall of 12 inches was reported in Potter county with eight inches in Bradford county, four inches in Clearfield county, and one inch in Perry county.

There was 3.16 inches of rain at Newport, near Harrisburg but only slight precipitation in the Ohio river valley. The rainfall at Williamsport was 2.04 inches, Harrisburg, 1.40 inches but only .45 of an inch at Wilkes-Barre.

Leslie F. Conover, head of the weather bureau here, said preliminary estimates indicate there will be floods as a result of the heavy rains in some districts.

IMPROVED NAVY RATED EVEN BY COACH OF ARMY

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—You can throw all the records out the window and chalk up Saturday's Army-Navy football game as a rough, tough struggle in which anything might happen.

That is, you can if you're inclined to believe Col. Earl (Red) Blaik, head coach of the all-victorious Army team which has been established in most quarters as a four-touchdown favorite to sink the Navy, run its victory string to 18 and pocket the national championship of 1945.

With furrowed brow, Blaik will look you straight in the eye and tell you he rates the game a toss-up. And there's something about his straightforward manner that make you think he really means it.

Using T Formations

"Navy has improved immeasurably the last three weeks," Blaik says, "particularly on the offense."

If pressed, Blaik will explain that the Middies are now using a tight T-formation about 80 per cent of the time, whereas they formerly ran mostly a split T.

Also, Army may be weakened somewhat by the illness of Arnold Tucker, first string quarterback, and Barney Poole, second string end—both in bed with mild cases of flu—and an injured shoulder received by Rip Rowan, chief understudy of Fullback Doc Blanchard, in yesterday's practice.

But the principal equalizer in this game is the traditional rivalry existing between the two service academies, says Blaik, who believes past performances can be forgotten any time the two teams meet.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—For the first time in something like 22 years, Nat Fleischer, the Ring magazine editor, is stumped for a "boxer of the year." . . . Nat insists that his annual award should go to someone who is a credit to the sport besides being a good fighter and he has checked more than 2,000 record cards without finding the man he wants.

"To make it worse," he moans, "there are more fighters than ever since the real pros have been coming out of service." . . . Navy coaches say the Army football squad uses 16 variations to get outside the tackles and ends. The most effective still is give the ball to Davis and get the heck out of the way. . . . Another candidate for the "high school army" title is Columbus, Kas., high, which won nine games, scored 362 points to its opponents' 58 and gained 2,095 yards by rushing and 1,310 by passing.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Jay Berwanger, one of Chicago's football greats, says his alma mammy won't return to Big Ten grid competition Jay ought to know, since his job is coaching intramural touch football there. . . . Grid Loop To Use Won-Lost System

Harrisburg, Nov. 29 (AP)—The new central Pennsylvania Interscholastic Football conference will figure the standing of its teams by the familiar won-and-lost system instead of a point system used by some scholastic conferences.

That was decided at a meeting here yesterday of representatives of the eight schools forming the new conference which will get underway in 1947. High schools in the circuit are York, Lancaster, Lebanon, Williamsport, Reading, Steelton, William Penn and John Harris, the latter two in Harrisburg.

The meeting was called primarily to adjust playing schedules of the member schools. Each school will play each of the others during the season.

MIDDIES FACE LOSS OF GUARD

By BUS HAM

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 29 (AP)—Navy had an added worry today—whether Guard Jim Carrington will be able to play—as the Middies packed seabags to shove off for Philadelphia and Saturday's big game with Army.

Carrington had a temperature of 100 before yesterday's last long workout, and the Middies coach, Commr. Oscar E. Hagberg, sent him to bed.

Hagberg said he expects Carrington to be ready to start against Army but a further check will be made on his condition before squad leaves for Philadelphia this afternoon.

Should Carrington's illness hang on, Stan Turner, an experienced and able understudy, would be in line for the starting right guard position.

Two other Navy regulars, End Leon Bramlett and Tackle Bo Coppedge, have shoulder injuries but Hagberg said they will "be in there Saturday."

Navy men said that the Middies realize they must go out and score three or four times to stay in the running with Army's mighty machine.

"We've simply got to outscore them," they said.

week-end but Bryan Hextall probably is through for the season. . . . One of the major items on the agenda at the eastern college athletic meetings here December 11-13 is the date for the resumption of the Poughkeepsie regatta. Harvard may return at the same time to the various leagues from which it resigned to go informal.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Tuscaloosa grid fans are plugging Bama's Frank Thomas as the No. 1 coach of the year and the No. 1 citizen of Tuscaloosa. . . . Melvin Van Dis, Western Michigan college basketball center, was wounded the day after he landed in Normandy with the First Division. Sent to England for hospitalization, Mel discovered that his nurse was the wife of his college coach, Buck Read. . . . Baseball Historian Ernie Lanigan's records fail to show a single major league player whose last name started with "X" . . . There are plenty who would qualify as the algebraic "X"—the unknown quantity.

Newspaperman Is Buried In Pottsville

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 29 (AP)—Funeral services were being arranged today for Edmund L. Clifford, 76, general manager and treasurer of the Pottsville Republican, who died yesterday of cerebral thrombosis.

Clifford, third member of the newspaper's executive staff to die this year, was connected with the Republican for 57 years. He had been in ill health for the past few months following an operation.

Clifford, born in Mahanoy city, compiled and published a book about Schuylkill county men in World War I. The son of William Warren and Mary Clifford, he lived in Muir, St. Clair and Frackville before moving to Pottsville.

His widow and two daughters, Marion Clifford and Mrs. Arthur S. Pollett, all of Pottsville, survive.

600 UNRRA Employees Fired Or Arrested For Selling Goods On Black Mart

SOLD SUPPLIES INTENDED FOR WAR VICTIMS

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Herford, Germany, Nov. 29 (AP)—The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration has dismissed, suspended or arrested more than 600 of its workers accused of diverting relief supplies into the black market, it was announced today.

Leo J. Margolin of New York, chief of the UNRRA information bureau in Europe, said a majority of the workers involved were Americans and Britons employed in the French, American and British occupation zones in Germany. The action followed a two-months investigation.

Without specifying how many of the accused workers were from each zone, Margolin said:

"All were involved in black market dealings—actually selling or being a party to selling at black market prices foodstuffs and clothing earmarked for victims of war."

Seek "Spotless" Unit
He explained that the accused workers would be replaced by demobilized American and British soldiers.

"Investigations will continue," Margolin said, "and before the first of the year, Lt. Gen. Sir Frederick A. Morgan (chief of UNRRA operations in Germany and formerly assistant chief of staff for General Eisenhower) hopes to have UNRRA a spotless organization."

Margolin said that in the last five weeks 13 UNRRA workers had been arrested and another had been sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment during investigations in the British zone by military police and UNRRA officials.

The convicted worker was Francis Schiff, a Czechoslovak National who had been assigned to a relief team caring for displaced persons in the Bonn area. He was caught selling coffee to Germans.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Stuart Miller, Montrose, a son of Harry Miller, late of this place, was a visitor in town during the week. He was also entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner party in York given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shaffer. Another guest at the Shaffer home at that time was their son, the Rev. Richard E. Shaffer, Hellam, former pastor of the local Evangelical and Reformed church, with his wife and son, Robert.

Makes Solo Flight

Eugene W. Sheely, New Oxford, instructor in mathematics at the local high school, recently made a solo flight at the Hanover airport.

Miss Anna E. Sinner, a student nurse at the York hospital, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her father, Emmanuel J. Sinner.

Stanley Cook, Hanover, formerly of East Berlin, received treatment at the Hanover hospital during the past week. His wife is the former Miss Verdella Dutera of this place.

The Young People's Society of the Red Run church near here has decided to donate $10 to the Salvation Army for their present relief drive.

Miss M. Estelle Kuhn, Brooklyn, N. Y., a sister of Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney, has returned to her home after a recent operation at a Brooklyn hospital. She is reported doing very well.

The Rev. Alvin J. Ferry, newly elected pastor of the local Evangelical and Reformed church, was formally installed Sunday afternoon at Zwingli church. The service was in charge of the Rev. Howard S. Fox, the Rev. E. O. Keen, and the Rev. Irvin Raubenhold, officer of the Mercersburg Reformed Synod.

Allan Moul, Thomasville, a former student at the local high school, has been discharged from the navy. He served for some time in Hawaii.

SCHWELLENBACH TAKES HAND IN G-M SITUATION

Detroit, Nov. 29 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach took a personal hand today in the nine-day-old General Motors strike which has idled 225,000 workers and stalled production in more than 70 plants.

Schwellenbach, who conferred with President Truman late last week on the GM strike, sat in on a four-hour meeting with officials of the CIO United Automobile Workers at Washington yesterday.

The conference was called by Chief Federal Conciliator Edgar L. Warren, who announced later he and Schwellenbach would ask GM President C. E. Wilson to resume negotiations promptly with the striking union. There was no advance hint as to what Wilson's reply would be.

Warren told reporters he was "hopeful" of getting the two parties together again and of finding a common ground for discussion of the union's 30 per cent wage increase demand.

UAW-CIO President R. J. Thomas and Vice President Walter P. Reuther said they were ready to meet with the GM management "any time, any place." Reuther added that GM would "have to be convinced" of the necessity of a meeting.

Attacks Ford Plan

The Labor department said Wilson had declined three separate invitations to the capital for talks with the conciliation service similar to those yesterday with the union.

The Ford Motor company, also facing the 30 per cent demand, meanwhile pressed its counter-demand for "company security" with a definite proposal.

In its next contract with the UAW-CIO it suggested a provision entitling the company to deduct from union dues collected under the check-off system $5 for each day or fraction thereof any union member is idle in an unauthorized work stoppage.

Terming the proposal "unrealistic," Richard T. Leonard, UAW-CIO Ford director, said it would not guarantee an end to unauthorized strikes.

Promises Punishment

"Financial responsibility," he added, "would be a serious menace to the life of the union. We cannot put that weapon in anyone's hands."

Leonard said the union was prepared to provide "adequate" punishment for instigators of "wildcat" strikes by permitting discharge in extreme cases and longer lay-off penalties in others.

The Ford company has laid off 40,000 employees this week, attributing its action to work stoppages in 15 supplier plants and resultant parts shortages.

Because of a shortage of parts the Hudson Motor Car company suspended operations at 1 p. m. yesterday but called its 2,500 workers back today.

STEEL WORKERS
VOTE TO STRIKE
BY BIG MARGIN

Pittsburgh, Nov. 29 (AP)—Officials of the CIO-United steelworkers held in their hands today authority to call a nationwide strike to enforce their demand for a $2 a day pay raise.

The power was given by members of their union who voted in a National labor relations board election yesterday, favoring a strike nearly 5 to 1.

Unofficial, incomplete returns to the NLRB from hundreds of polling places in 27 states showed the workers voting 342,125 for, only 70,639 against a strike.

There was no indication a strike would be called immediately or even in the near future.

Greatest NLRB Vote
Officials of the USWA told their local leaders before the voting that a favorable ballot did not necessarily mean there would be a strike.

Workers were cautioned against any premature work stoppage and were informed the authority for a strike rests with the National wage policy committee and the executive board.

The election was the greatest NLRB vote ever undertaken in the United States, involving 766 plants and some 650,000 workmen, many thousands of whom did not cast ballots.

The vote was called for by the union after the steel companies declared that they could not grant a $2 a day pay boost without a raise in steel prices, which the OPA refused.

The story was the same in every state, an overwhelming majority for the strike authorization.

Complete returns from Pennsylvania, greatest steel producer in the nation, with an annual ingot ca-capacity of about 30,000,000 tons, voted 161,512 for, 36,817 against.

The teeming mills of Ohio produced a 69,006 to 14,923 return for the strike authorization.

New York steelworkers plumped for the walkout by about 40,000 to 7,000 votes.

Majorities in these three big states ranged around 5 to 1 but they were not the highest recorded.

About 4,000 workers in Alabama voted 14 to 1 for a strike, nearly 7,500 in Minnesota cast a 13 to 1 ballot for it. Some 16,000 in Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina and Michigan favored the strike 8 to 1, while smaller groups in Utah and Texas voted 10 to 1.

WORDY BARRAGE
STALLS SENATE
ACTION ON UNO

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—A barrage of words and amendments stalled Senate action today on legislation to mesh this government's machinery with that of the infant United Nations Organization.

Wary but confident, Senator Connally, (D-Tex.), told a reporter that UNO supporters had ample voting strength "but no man can force the Senate to vote when they want to keep on talking."

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee abandoned hope for Senate passage today but said "I still think we may get around to voting down these amendments on Friday."

Russia had much attention in speeches to a nearly vacant Senate chamber yesterday.

"Drifting Toward War"

Senator Edwin C. Johnson, (D-Colo.), declared this nation is "drifting toward war with Russia with certainly and speed." He called for approval of the pending bill without change because, he said, war with Russia "would mean suicide for both nations."

Johnson said it was time to get "rough and tough" in our relations with all the world, adding:

"With vision and guts and plenty of atomic bombs, ultra modern planes and strategically located air bases, the United States can outlast wars of aggression."

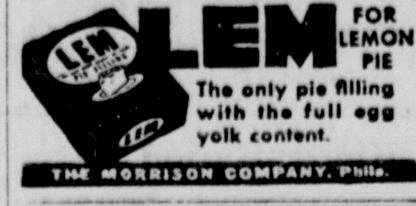

Demonstration to Reds

Senator Morse, (R-Ore.), said the future would bring a U. S.-Soviet dispute that would require action by the new world court proposed under the UNO charter.

The Oregon senator argued that before agreeing to use "economic or military sanctions" in settling any international disputes, the United States should agree to be bound by any decisions of the court."

This, Morse said, would "be a demonstration to Russia to show we intend to live up to this method of settling international disputes."

OFFICER SAVES SOLDIER WITH TANGLED LOVES

By HAL BOYLE

Shanghai (AP) — Somewhere in America there is a wife who never will know how much she owes to her husband's commanding officer.

This is a true story, so for anonymity let us say that her husband was a sergeant—which he was not.

The story goes back almost to the beginning of the late war. The sergeant had a lower rank then. He had been married only a short time, and was a sad and sorry guy when his ship steamed out of the Golden Gate more than three years ago.

There followed three years of change and chance, three years of life among strange people and strange ways.

At last the sergeant was eligible for discharge on points, but as he waited through the last days for his release he showed none of the jubilation of other soldiers of his outfit who also were almost through with drill and khaki.

"I guess I've got putty in my head instead of brains," he told a friend. The friend pointed to the picture of a beautiful dark-haired girl on a packing case that served as a table beside the sergeant's cot and replied, "You must have putty in your head if you don't want to go home to a wife like that."

Not His Wife

"That's the trouble," said the sergeant. "She's not my wife."

Holding his head in his hands, he explained: "I met her in Australia. It didn't happen all at once. You know how the Australians treated us when we first went there: nothing too good for us, nothing they wouldn't do for us."

"I met her at a dance and took her home. She introduced me to her parents. I was pretty lonesome, and I guess they were too, for they had a boy in the Middle East. They took me into the family, and before I knew it, the girl and I were liking each other better than we had a right to do."

"I don't know just how it happened. I used to tell them all about my wife in the states and I never thought anybody could take her place, but I guess I was in Australia too long."

"I thought it would be all over when we left there, but it was worse. When I got to New Guinea I worried myself sick, thinking about what I ought to do. I was in love with both girls."

Made Ill By It

"I lost weight and wound up in a hospital. They sent me back to Australia to rest. I had malaria, but that wasn't really the trouble. I saw the girl again. She came to the hospital all the time and I really was in a tailspin. And yet I loved my wife and still do."

"Now I'm in a fix. I never wrote my wife about the other girl, so I can't tell her now, and I don't know whether to go home or go to Australla and try to arrange a divorce from there. It's running me nuts.

BATTLE IN TEXAS

College Station, Texas, Nov. 29 (AP)—Texas and Texas A. & M. battle today for some pretty high stakes, among them being Southwest Conference glory and a spot in the Cotton Bowl, but that's no more important than the deep-seated rivalry that has put this annual game at the top of the gridiron hit parade.

"As long as I've been in the army I haven't had to make up my mind, but I'm getting out now and I do have to make up my mind but I don't know how."

Somehow the word of his predicament got around, and one day the sergeant was called before his commanding officer.

Decided For Him

"Sergeant," he said, without preliminaries of any sort, "I have a little job for you. We have some classified material we are sending back to the states. I want you to take it back. It will be your last army assignment. The plane leaves tomorrow and you will be discharged soon after you arrive."

The sergeant looked bewildered, but managed to reply, "Yes, sir."

At the tent flap he paused, turned slowly and added, "Thank you, sir."

When the sergeant caught the plane for home next day, there was a happy grin on his face.

Choosing Six Timber Trees

Numerous farmers discovered during the ten years before the late war began that marketable timber is one of the soundest of all forms of insurance to fall back on when economic emergencies arise and hurried cash is needed. The editor knows of several instances when farmers needed money to meet taxes and family expenses and turned to their salable trees as sources of immediate revenue. Here they found a bank that never turns down an application for a loan. Markets may be closed and demands sluggish when other crops are offered, but timber rarely fails to find eager buyers at high prices.

Therefore, land owners should, if for none of the many other sound reasons, grow timber as a sort of farm and family insurance against probable hard times ahead, times when ready cash may be urgently needed and timber likely to prove the only salable product of the farm. And even if such contingencies never come, the trees will be increasing in value and thereby enhancing the land's worth.

What species of timber trees will serve best in these important revenue roles? "Please suggest six," a farmer recently asked us. Here is our choice:

Black walnut, of course, heads the list because it comes nearest to being our most indispensable timber and at the same time our scarcest. Too, this tree grows vigorously along fence rows and other idle areas without interfering seriously with adjacent crops. Often the annual revenue from nuts pays excellent dividends on the investment while the trees increase in timber value.

Hickory is in second place for reasons similar to those in favor of black walnut—a timber in wide demand and nut crops over the years. And hickory, too, grows well in isolated nooks where the land is producing no other sources of revenue.

Black locust occupies third place for four main reasons: (1) The timber commands a profitable market as posts, mine props and many other uses; (2) The trees thrive on rather thin and tired soils; (3) Trees reach marketable size sooner than any other hardwood species; and (4)

Black locust may be utilized to check soil erosion and rehabilitate run-down land.

Persimmon is our fourth choice because its closely grained hardwood timber is in wide demand and the trees grow well on thin soils. And too, the fruits, while not commercially worthwhile, are the richest of all temperate zone fruits in food value and make excellent feed for hogs. It is not improbable that the lowly persimmon may come to the front in the next few years as a food crop.

Perhaps sentiment helped make our fifth selection, but we would plant sugar maples for their recognized timber value plus their role as a source of one of man's most delectable foods—maple sirup.

Our sixth choice is purely commercial—pulpwood species. Instead of one kind of tree, this would likely be several of the species which state forestry officials believe will grow best under local conditions and prove most profitable for sale to meet our stringent pulpwood shortages within the next few years. The pulpwood part of the farm timber program should be based on two well established principles—the certainty

Higgins Sees Big '46 Grid Season

State College, Pa., Nov. 29 (AP)—Un-dismayed by the dismal ending of the present season Coach Bob Higgins of Penn State college today looked forward to 1946 as "the best season in the history of college football."

Higgins, a veteran of World War One, said his prediction regarding 1946 was based on the returning servicemen who are expected to bolster most of the nation's leading football teams.

"The veterans will restore the powerhouse elevens to their former places in the frontrank and next fall the grid fans can anticipate some real football battles," said Higgins.

He carefully avoided any prediction as to his own Penn State eleven, which won five of eight this year, but says every man, plus several servicemen, would be back for 1946.

Uncertainty Gets Germans Being Held In Kiangwan Camp

By RICHARD CUSHING
Shanghai, Nov. 29 (AP)—Laughing children, busily at play, are the only happy Germans in the Kiangwan segregation center.

The few hard-bitten Nazi leaders interned in the large white former Japanese high school are grumpy, scowling, untalkative.

Germans with less violent party ideals don't have time for much revelry. They're too hard at work making themselves and their families comfortable in the large, partitioned schoolrooms assigned to them.

The German wives, most of whom had Chinese amahs jump at their every command, aren't happy either. They spend long hours cooking, peeling potatoes, sweeping floors, hanging curtains, arranging furniture and engaging in other household chores hard on finger nails and German tempers.

Play Blissfully
But the children play blissfully, as they would in a Berlin kindergarten made of gingerbread.

Mild-mannered Tinan W. Loo, who put in 20 years as registrar of St. John's university, runs the Kiangwan center with a hand not too heavy. There is little need for stern discipline, for the Germans are adapting themselves to the restricted life with no show of rebellion and little complaint, not that a complaint would gain them anything.

Tall and handsome Elgar Von Randow, 41-year-old German career diplomat, is the appointed head of

Head Of Catholic Schools Stricken

Philadelphia, Nov. 29 (AP)—Right Rev. Monsignor John J. Bonner, superintendent of Catholic schools in the Philadelphia Archdiocese and a Domestic Prelate since 1930 by order of Pope Pius XI, died Tuesday. He was 55.

A bitter opponent of what is sometimes called "progressive education," Msgr. Bonner supported school supervision "based on the principles of discipline and respect for authority."

Born in Philadelphia, he was president of the Catholic Education Association of Pennsylvania and treasurer-general of the National Catholic Educational Association.

Nationally known as a teacher, orator and educator he advocated home training of teen-age boys patterned after the army system to solve juvenile problems.

the internees. Years ago he was German consul at Peiping.

"Our main worry is that there's nothing decided about what's going to happen to us," is his chief complaint.

Waiting for Orders
"Here we are. We received our notices to pack up and come. Now we're here and nobody has the slightest idea what for, or how

Hogan Favored In Orlando Open Meet

Orlando, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP)—With a total of 164 entries including the country's top professional and amateur golfers, the $10,000 Orlando open golf tournament begins here today.

Ben Hogan, of Hershey, Pa., winner of the Montgomery Invitational, was the tournament favorite. He carded a par 71 in a practice round yesterday.

Slammin' Sammy Snead had a brisk 67.

long, or anything. It's just the feeling of uncertainty. The whole purpose of internment isn't clear.

"Are they going to question us, send us back to Germany, or what? It's the uncertainty that gets us."

The Chinese running the camp don't know either. They're waiting for further orders. They plan eventually to find out what the Germans were doing during the war, but what will follow is still rather indefinite.

HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, Nov. 29 (AP)—"Bells of St. Mary's" is Leo McCarey's Christmas gift to the nation. It is an ever-wonderful event.

It is unfortunate, but inevitable that the picture will be compared to Leo's great hit of last year, "Going My Way." There will be much argument as to which picture is better. This reviewer would put his money on "Bells."

Earlier this year I sat all one afternoon with Leo and writer Dudley Nichols while they told me what they wanted to do with their picture. In "Going My Way," Leo wanted to show that priests can be human. In "Bells," he and Nichols wanted to prove "that unms can be jolly." They succeeded wonderfully well. The scene in which Ingrid Bergman as a nun tries to teach a youngster how to box is an unforgettable classic.

Better set aside a few Oscars. A reliable informant reports that Joan Crawford will co-star with John Garfield in "Humoresque" at Warners and then play "The Secret" . . . Lon McAllister in Edmonton, Alberta, was promoted from PFC to corporal. He would like to get busted to civilian but the end is not in view. . . . Henry Fonda returns to 20th-Fox in "My Darling Clementine," the western story which John Ford will make. Jeanne Crain will play one of the femme leads. . . . Bob Crosby leaves for 39 one-night stands up the coast to Seattle.

On the movie sets. . . . Don't breathe it to the screen writers guild, but Keenan Wynn is an actor with little or no concern for the written script. He claims he creates a lot of his punch lines. For instance, he was doing a scene for "No Leave, No Love" in which he was caught in a hotel lobby with only a towel around him. Wynn dreamed up this line to startled passers-by: "What's the matter—haven't you ever seen a towel before?"

Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

Hollywood, Nov. 29 (AP)—In an effort to provide complete financial independence for his son, Preston Sturges will give the boy complete rights to a play which he will write and direct for Broadway production.

Fifteen years ago Sturges wrote the successful "Strictly Dishonorable" and then came to Hollywood to become a topnotch screen writer. He achieved more fame by directing his own pictures, such as "Miracle of Morgan's Creek." After producing "The Sin of Harold Diddlebock" and "Columbia" he intends to return to the stage.

"Naturally I hope that my three-year-old son, Solomon, will be amply provided for with what I earn from pictures and my other ventures," Sturges said today. "But in these days of high income and inheritance taxes, not to mention possible depressions, I can't be sure that he will be taken care of. So full rights to the play will be in his name."

If the untitled play is a success (and nearly everything Sturges has touched in recent years has been successful), Solomon should be well off. The play's run would provide a large, steady income and screen rights to successful plays are going for as high as a half-million dollars.

Solomon should be paying a healthy income tax for a boy of his age.

BELOW THE BELT

Without Stomach Relievers

This Kind of Laxative Help Often Needed When Lower Stomach Causes Gassy, Bloating Misery

When most food leaves the stomach, it is by no means fully digested. It is in the 2nd, 3rd or 4th stage of digestion that the greater part of digestion is done. When we get constipated these later stages of digestion often slow down. Then food is apt to ferment and decay excessively in the bowels. As a result we may feel full of gassy bloating and other indigestion miseries. That's when you need Beecham's Pills. They work to relieve this congestion of waste and encourage the welcome elimination which helps promote better digestion below the belt. Ask your druggist for gentle, all-vegetable Beecham's Pills today. Caution: Use only as directed, 25¢.

The Golden Rule Announces

The opening of a completely new store at
29 WEST MARKET STREET
YORK, PENNSYLVANIA

We had long felt the need of a more central location for the Golden Rule, one that would be more convenient for our customers, one that would give us a greater opportunity to expand. . . . With this in mind we purchased the building at 29 West Market Street. We then engaged foremost designers to help us plan a store which would be modern and in good taste, one that our customers would enjoy. . . . Capable contractors and skilled mechanics have sped their work to completion. We believe that you will like our new store as much as we do. It is substantial, conveniently arranged with beautiful fixtures, well lighted and comfortably air conditioned. . . . While continuing war time shortages have limited assortments in some of our departments, The Golden Rule will follow its forty-year-old policy of selling only quality merchandise at thrifty prices.

The Golden Rule Announces

The opening of a completely new store at
29 WEST MARKET STREET
YORK, PENNSYLVANIA

We had long felt the need of a more central location for the Golden Rule, one that would be more convenient for our customers, one that would give us a greater opportunity to expand. . . . With this in mind we purchased the building at 29 West Market Street. We then engaged foremost designers to help us plan a store which would be modern and in good taste, one that our customers would enjoy. . . . Capable contractors and skilled mechanics have sped their work to completion. We believe that you will like our new store as much as we do. It is substantial, conveniently arranged with beautiful fixtures, well lighted and comfortably air conditioned. . . . While continuing war time shortages have limited assortments in some of our departments, The Golden Rule will follow its forty-year-old policy of selling only quality merchandise at thrifty prices.

WAKE UP YOUR DIGESTION BELOW THE BELT

Without Stomach Relievers

This Kind of Laxative Help Often Needed When Lower Sluggishness Causes Gassy, Bloating Misery

When most food leaves the stomach, it is by no means fully digested. It is in the 25 feet or more of intestine that the greater part of digestion is done. When we get constipated these later stages of digestion often slow down. Then food is apt to ferment and decay excessively in the bowels. As a result we may feel full of gassy bloating and other indigestion miseries. That's when you need Becciam's Pills. They work to relieve this congestion of waste and encourage the welcome elimination which helps promote better digestion below the belt. Ask your druggist for gentle, safe, reliable Becciam's Pills today. Caution: Use only as directed. 25c.

EXPERTS SAY FRIED TURKEY IS DELICIOUS

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Harrisburg, Nov. 29 (AP)—Ever eat fried turkey?

It's delicious, a Department of Agriculture expert said today, especially when cut-up pieces are simmered in a covered pan or skillet, or stewed before frying.

And Christmas dinners in many Pennsylvania homes may feature this new dish.

Experiencing success during the Thanksgiving season with "split" birds, or turkeys cut in half for small families, families and dealers were expected by the department to sell cut-up turkey just as chickens have been sold for some time, in cut-up pieces by weight and prices according to choice cuts.

E. J. Lawless, Jr., in charge of poultry and egg marketing activities in the department, said he anticipated the demand for "split" and "cut-up" turkeys may become year around, adding encouragingly:

"Many Pennsylvania growers acquired poulters during most of the summer months so that a good supply of young turkeys will extend into next spring."

Many State Meetings

More than 20 statewide agricultural associations have already made plans to participate in the annual state Farm Show Week educational meetings here next January 22, 23 and 24. Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst announced today.

The sessions, however, will be conducted without the added attraction of exhibits and contests in the big Farm Show building which the army has occupied for the past four years.

A number of farm organizations open meetings on Tuesday, January 22, including the Pennsylvania Vegetable Growers Association, State Horticultural Association, Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association, Future Farmers of America, Pennsylvania Christmas Tree Growers Association, Hereford Cattle Breeders Association and the various swine breeders' associations.

On the following day, sessions will be held by the Society of Farm Women of Pennsylvania, the Aberdeen-Angus Breeders Association, Pennsylvania Dairymen's Association, Guernsey Breeders Association, Pennsylvania Holstein Association, Pennsylvania Jersey Cattle Club, Pennsylvania Livestock Breeders Association, Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers Association, State Beekeepers Association and the

Hornet Wingman Is Fans' Favorite

(By The Associated Press)

Winger Bill Ezinicki has sold himself to the Pittsburgh American Hockey League fans on his very first start since his return to the Hornets from Toronto of the National League.

Reporting in time for last night's game with the Hershey Bears, Eastern Division pace setters, Ezinicki helped Joe Klukay flash the light with a tying goal in the second period. The recruit then sent the 5,500 fans home happy with a winning goal, 2-1, after eight minutes of play in the final session.

Buffalo's home winning streak was marred after six straight auditorium victories when the lowly New Haven Eagles held the Bisons to a 4-4 deadlock before a crowd of 7,518.

Buffalo plays at Indianapolis in tonight's only action.

Pennsylvania Poultry Federation. With travel restrictions lifted, Secretary Horst, also chairman of the state Farm Show Commission, anticipates an attendance of up to 8,000 farm people.

Chapter 15
(Sunday 9:05 p. m. to Monday 9:50 a. m.)

A cold chill crept over Julia. She thought of the tall girl's answer when she had asked her where she was the night before. And some one had carried Julia back to her bed. Virginia could have done that. Steinway had said he was with her when Robey was killed but both of them might have lied.

"If a woman is guilty she will no doubt confess," Wandell went on imperturbably. "Inspector Venable has climbed on the confessions of guilty women."

Frank's music died out and he moved toward them and sat on the corner seat near Julia.

"I remembered him," he said. "He's the young psychology expert who went in for crime and topped off his success with the Carson confession."

She remembered then why his face was familiar. She had seen his picture in the paper in connection with the Carson trial. Mrs. Carson was charged with her husband's murder and everything appeared in her favor. The newspapers had hinted at the slight evidence on which the district attorney was basing his case. Then suddenly the woman had confessed—to the attractive Inspector.

"He has a perfect record so far. Let's hope he solves this one," said Wandell gravely.

"He has a way with him," Frank looked from Virginia to Julia. "You girls had better be careful. You'll be making up things to tell him."

Julia's cheeks flushed with anger. So that was why he had been so kind to her. He was hunting for a confession to hang like a scalp from his belt. How she hated him for his deceptive courtesy!

Doctor Wandell rose to leave and Julia went with him to the door. Moore was serving drinks when she came back.

"He's pretty smooth—your doctor," said Frank.

"What did he do with Alma?" asked Virginia.

"I gathered from the Commissioner that she is in a mental institution. She has been there before and the police can't question her.

Don't suppose they could use it anyway. She went to pieces when Robey left her. This isn't nice conversation for you, Julie."

"Forget I'm Robey's widow, Frank, and just remember I want to help find his murderer. I didn't love him but it wasn't fair that he should lose life when he loved it so."

"We haven't talked over what to do," Virginia said, stifling a yawn. "Go on, it's only ten and I'm sleepy. I'm staying with Julia. With cops getting themselves knocked out the place isn't safe."

Frank protested and Julia couldn't tell whether it was to get Virginia away from danger or because he didn't trust the girl although his attitude toward her was as devoted as a true sophisticate's could be.

Virginia, however, had made up her mind and it wasn't easily changed.

"Only Uncle Dick can boss me and he's in Buenos Aires, thank God!" She slept in Robey's room.

"I can't sleep with anyone," she explained, "and I'm not afraid of ghosts. That's why I moved in here last night."

She laughed shortly at Julia's expression. It was a mixture of relief and contrition that she had shown any suspicion of the girl who had been kind in spite of her brusqueness.

Before she went to bed, Julia stuck a finger in the tall perfume bottle and felt the paper rolled within. She did not take it out. It was enough to know it was still there. She would never tell the Inspector about it now, she reflected, or he would twist it into another piece of evidence against her. How foolish she had been to trust him at all!

Morning brought new suspicions and finally, fresh horror.

Moore awakened her early with the first news. The house had been searched the night before. Julia put on a quilted house coat and slippers and went into the salon. The dignified room looked like a drunken outcast. The sight gave an impact of fury and violence. She had a weird feeling picture of Robey coming back to search for what he had hidden. Fear welled and overflowed. She closed her eyes against the scene.

"Shall I clean up quickly before the cops come?" Moore asked with a hint of eagerness.

She hesitated. That would be the easiest way. But she didn't trust Moore. It would be better to face the police now.

"No. Ask the man in the corridor to come here."

Moore's flabby face became bland and he went outside. She wanted to go back to see if her perfume bottle with its damning bit of evidence was safe but she forced herself to wait.

The detective's mouth dropped open when he saw the room. He recovered quickly and went past them and out the back, returning with another guard.

"Nobody is to leave this house," said the first man. The other one went to the phone in the foyer.

"Yes, sir. Thank you, sir," Moore answered with affected satire.

Julia went to her bedroom and walked straight to the dressing table. The paper was still there. She thought of destroying it but couldn't bring herself to do it. It seemed to be important to some one.

Virginia and Moore were standing before the Inspector when she entered the salon again.

"At least we can limit the number who could have made this search," he said and Julia wondered how she could ever have thought his mouth betrayed a sense of humor. "Only you three were in the apartment last night and no one came in."

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes
Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause aching backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as how, else, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

26 CARLISLE STREET

COMING SOON! New B. F. Goodrich Tire That Outwears Prewar Tires

THIS isn't a guess. A new kind of tire has been developed, and tests show that it outwears prewar passenger car tires.

It is made of a new kind of synthetic rubber developed by B. F. Goodrich—different from the ordinary synthetic rubber in general use by the tire industry. It helps the new tire run cooler—wear better.

The new tire has had more than 2,000 laboratory tests. Taxicab fleets, state police departments and the B. F. Goodrich test fleet have run it 16,800,000 test miles. Not only does it give longer tread wear than prewar tires, but it has more resistance to bruising or damage from accident.

A new, slightly different shaped tread—we call it the "road level" tread—is another feature that means longer wear. Engineers had wished for years to make a tread just slightly flatter. But that more desirable shape always set up strains in the tire body, or "carcass," as it is called. B. F. Goodrich developed an entirely new and stronger cotton cord, designed it into a 35% stronger carcass that stands all these strains and permits the use of the new flatter, longer-wearing tread.

The tread design is new. It is made up of hundreds of skid-resisting curves for quicker stops, surer starts—safer driving.

In a few weeks these new tires will begin to be produced in large volume, but supplies may be limited for quite a while. We have placed our order, and hope to have our shipment shortly. Watch for our announcement. And in the meantime, take good care of the tires you have—make them last until you can replace them with these new, better B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns.
